APPEALS FOR CANADA WESTEdmonton Barrister Foresees Formation of New Union If No Aid GivenCanadian Press
Edmonton, March 4.—Union the disfranchisement position, in which Western Canada finds itself in overcome, there will be an effort to the west to create a sub-consolidation within the Dominion. George H. Van Allen, B.C., Edmonton barrister, warned 1,500 people in a public meeting here yesterday evening called by the Independent Labor Party.Mr. Van Allen declared "Western Canada is bleeding to death for the special benefit of the eastern provinces. But if it is given redress the only great west will emerge into a new era of prosperity the like of which has never been known."The speaker declared that in 1901, as an instance, tariffs cost the people of Canada $100,000,000 over world prices. Of this, $100,000,000 went to Canada as customs duties while $90,000,000 constituted the "extra" charge charged by Canadian producers as a result of the protective tariffs which enabled them to add to the price of their output.Ontario and Quebec, he said, were the forerunners of the western provinces under this system, Ontario having a net gain of $20,000,000 and Quebec $10,000,000. Alberta's net loss was $10,000,000, that of Saskatchewan
$10,000,000, and that of Manitoba
$10,000,000. The only direct income to offset this was $2,000,000 in subsidies coming to the province from the Dominion.The speaker declared that in 1901,

Mr. Connell opposed the higher income tax clause "while there are still holdings of land and property of a speculative character in our midst, and because it would work a hardship on those with low incomes." He also proposed that free textbook issues be widened.The committee charged considerably upon the advisability of transferring the cost of education from land to general taxation.
It was not suggested that the new income tax should be levied on the complicated basis of the present income tax, but that it should be levied on a simplified basis.A method of controlling counterbalancing income in other levies to insure relief for land owners was urged, together with a reduction in local levies for education after the provision assumed an increased portion of the cost.A thorough scientific survey of the whole taxation field was suggested as a preliminary to imposing the 2 per cent service tax and in the meantime a 1 per cent income tax should be raised 1 per cent.Simplification of collection for the income tax was proposed such as discontinuing the system of the return of the income tax.Removal of grants from the Dominion government for technical, agricultural and extension education being paid out as a result of duties and protective tariffs. The only direct income to offset this was $2,000,000

BULLETIN ON CANCER ISSUED

Associated Press
Sacramento, Calif., March 4.—Cancer, even in its advanced stages, is an arrestable disease. Dr. Charles A. Duke of Oakland, president of the American College of Surgeons, said here today in a bulletin published by the state health department.

Dr. Duke said, however, there were but three reliable ways to treat the malignant disease—by X-ray, by radium or by the surgical knife.

"There are no secret cancer cures, no serums nor injections of value," he added.

"Cancer is a disease, personal to the individual who has it, and cannot be transmitted in any known way to another person," said Dr. Duke.

FUNERAL AT REVELSTOCK

Revelstock, B.C., March 4.—The late William Fleming will be buried here tomorrow. He died at Bella Coola, B.C., last Thursday. Born in Clinton, Ont., sixty-five years ago he came here as a young man to become one of Revelstock's first business men. Later he was appointed district government road superintendent.

The captain of a ship sailing from Reno, Me., died on a cruise in 1904. Not wishing to bury him at sea, his crew picked the body in a barrel of brandy and buried it there, and all when the ship returned to the home port.

TORONTO HAS CIVIC SUNDAY

Churches Crowded on Day of Prayer Proclaimed By Mayor

Canadian Press
Toronto, March 4.—Toronto churches were crowded yesterday in answer to a proclamation by Mayor James Simpson setting aside the day as one for "prayer and self-sacrifice." The mayor himself addressed two gatherings.

In the morning he spoke to a congregation at the Howard Street United Church, his own place of worship. In the afternoon he was greeted by a big crowd at the Deer Park United Church, where the York Bible Class met.

"My sincere desire and chief purpose in proclaiming this day of prayer," Mayor Simpson said at the morning service, "was to attach the greatest value to spiritual and morally educative work done here, which makes our city a worthwhile place to live in. We have in our city a true Christian conception of our social and individual responsibilities."

DELAYED SPRING IS MINERS' DESIRE

Canadian Press
Jellicoe, Ont., March 4.—Miners of the Sturgeon River goldfields are fighting a battle against time, striving to get heavy machinery from Jellicoe to the scene of mining operations before the snow is gone. This is one place in Canada where spring does not need to hurry along.

Construction of a summer road linking Jellicoe and the active mining area fifteen miles away looms as the result of conferences between leading citizens. It was intimated the Ontario government will lend all possible financial and engineering aid to such a project.

BY-ELECTION IN NIPISSING, ONT.

Canadian Press
North Bay, Ont., March 4.—Election of Nipissing were voting today, choosing a successor in the Ontario Legislature to the late Theodore Legault, Liberal, who died suddenly in Toronto in January.

The election is a straight fight between J. Harry Marceau, Liberal, and E. S. Lawrence, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation. In the voting last June Mr. Legault had a majority of 6,111 over the Conservative candidate, C. R. Harrison. The Conservatives did not name a candidate for today's contest.

Soviet Papers Warn Germany

Advise Against Aggressive Plans Aimed at Russia

Associated Press
Moscow, March 4.—Newspapers published long articles yesterday warning Germany's military strength and warning of her alleged aggressive intentions toward Russia. They linked these with reports of the forthcoming visit to Berlin and Moscow of Sir John Simon, British Foreign Secretary.

The chances for a general peace agreement depend very much on whether Sir John, looking into the eyes of the Germans, believes what he sees there, said Ivestia, organ of official opinion in the U.S.S.R.

If he does, said the paper, the situation in eastern Europe will "become more tense" and this possibility will lead to "very bad results."

The real reason Germany rejects an eastern Locarno pact, Ivestia insisted, is "to have her hands free to provoke a war."

CALIFORNIA EDITOR DIES

San Francisco, March 4.—Premont Older, seventy-eight, veteran newspaper editor who was notable for his efforts to obtain freedom for Tom Mooney, died here yesterday.

THREE SLAIN IN NEW YORK

Racketeers and Taxi Driver Murdered Just Before Grand Jury Sits

New York, March 4.—Three slayings yesterday, all of which police linked with the lucrative policy game, gambling, dope or vice racket, made a dramatic prelude to a sweeping grand jury investigation which started today.

John ("Spider") Murtha, thirty-six, described by police as a policy racketeer, was shot and killed by two gunmen as he walked from a Brooklyn hotel with a woman friend.

The body of a reputed narcotic drug peddler, with two gunshot wounds in the head, was found on the roof of a building on 100th Street by a tenant. Police identified the body as that of Salvatore Matto, twenty-four.

Solly Jacobov, thirty-seven, a taxi-driver, was killed as he sat at the wheel of his cab. A man who gave his name as Angelo Benvenuto, twenty-seven, was arrested on a homicide charge in connection with the case. Benvenuto owns a number of "push ball" gambling machines.

SNOW FALLS AT NANAIMO

Nanaimo, March 4.—Snow commenced to fall heavily here at 1:30 o'clock yesterday, following brilliant sunshine.

Nanaimo, March 4.—Jack Mahagan, Cedar district resident, is in hospital with a broken leg and head injuries, sustained when a team of horses he was driving bolted. The horses were scared by the breaking of an automobile horn. The heavy wagon passed over his leg.

DEATHS IN SOUTH CALIFORNIA STORM

Associated Press
Los Angeles, March 4.—A fresh southern California storm that cost two lives and did several thousand dollars of damage subsided today into scattered showers after bringing rain, snow, hail and a water-spout.

The water-spout hovered ominously outside the San Pedro breakwater, in the shelter of which were anchored the battleships and heavy cruisers of the United States fleet. It was followed by a gale that uprooted trees and damaged a few buildings on the nearby coast.

Blinding rain caused traffic accidents in which Lt. William J. Beverly and Alvin Hishida were killed.

QUEBEC WANTS NEW TAX FIELD

Canadian Press
Quebec, March 4.—Should the Dominion Government be willing to have the revenue tax field to the province of Quebec, the provincial government would consent to assume the full burden of looking after Quebec unemployed, Premier L. A. Taschereau stated here in a week-end address.

In all the proposals he had put before Dominion Government authorities in regard to unemployment relief, Premier Taschereau said he had been motivated by a desire to remove from municipalities the load of contributing to relief. His offer to the Dominion Government to share fifty-fifty with Quebec on relief expenditures was still open, he declared.

CALGARY DEATH
Calgary, March 4 (Canadian Press).—Deaths that William Blair, seventy-four, had long been expecting, came to him quietly yesterday. After he was found dead in bed in his lodging here it was learned he had deposited money in a local bank to pay funeral expenses. He had been ill for some time.

Things Get Loo In Vancouver

Armed Bandit Robs Store; Others Take Fifty Bolts of Cloth

Canadian Press
Vancouver, March 4.—Armed hold-ups and house robberies which have been prevalent in the city for some time continued here over the weekend, police reports show. One hold-up was staged, another attempted and a number of homes entered. In one instance thieves used an axe on the back door of a home to gain entry.

A lone bandit held up the Crescent Produce Company's store and escaped with $15 in cash, according to Jim Lemon, proprietor. Lemon told police the bandit held his hand in his pocket as if concealing a weapon and beckoned him into the rear of the premises, where he demanded money. The proprietor handed over $15 and the man fled.

An attempted holdup of the Marine Cafe failed when the cash register which the bandits were attempting to carry to the kitchen of the premises proved too heavy and they were forced to drop it to the floor and flee.

Mrs. C. Tomney, 1000 block of Haro Street, reported that while she was sitting in the kitchen of her home, a thief smashed the kitchen window with a stone and she saw a hand come through the opening and grab her handbag from a table. The purse contained $25 in cash and a cheque for $35.

DOOR BROKEN
An axe was used to batter down the back door of the home of Mrs. J. Thompson, 2500 block of Turner Street, by thieves, who reached the premises and made good their escape with clothing and musical instruments to the value of $25.

Remembering a pane of glass from the front door, thieves gained entry to the K. M. Aver Tailor Shop, 500 block of Howe Street, and escaped with fifty bolts of cloth.

CONGREGATION HEARS STEVENS

Revived Democracy Canada's Need, M.P. Tells Hamilton People

Canadian Press
Hamilton, Ont., March 4.—Canada is not suffering from over-production, Hon. W. H. Stevens, M.P., former Minister of Trade and Commerce, told an overflow congregation of the Centenary United Church yesterday evening. The church and schoolroom could scarcely accommodate the crowd.

"The time has arrived in Canada when the government must act," he said. "Wealth is in the hands of too few."

"I do not agree that there is over-production. We suffer from over-distribution of the things we have. I stand in awe of the terrible picture of the future of this country. I am not an agitator. I stand for order and respect for the law, but I also believe in equity and justice. The only way to compensate those who have tightened their belts and waited is to solve their problem."

Mr. Stevens prescribed a "revived and purified democracy" for the cure of social evils.

Four Die In Road Accidents

Highway Toll in Ontario Mounts During Week-end Motoring

Toronto, March 4.—Four deaths in traffic accidents, a death from exposure and death from a fall down stairs were included in Ontario's list of week-end fatalities.

Miss Barbara Hunter, twenty-one, and Miss Norma Rodden, twenty-three, of Toronto, were killed on the Hamilton highway near Galt when the auto in which they, with two young men, were returning from a basketball game, crashed against the rear of a standing truck. The young men escaped with minor injuries.

Mabel Sharpe, fifteen years old, of Dundas, walking with her cousin on the shoulder of the Preston highway near Galt, was struck and instantly killed by an auto driven, it is alleged, by Archie Peersman of Galt, who was arrested on a charge of manslaughter.

At Ottawa, Paul Emile Duhamel, thirty-five, died following a fall down stairs.

At Barrie, Arnold Robinson, nineteen, of Shelburne, was killed by a truck as he walked along the highway.

And William Martin, seventy-one, a machanic, of Paris, was found dead on the bank of the Grand River.

C.C.F. SECRETARY TOURING PRAIRIES

Canadian Press
Toronto, Sask., March 4.—Dealing with both federal and provincial affairs, M. J. Coldwell, national secretary of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, today was launched on a tour of Saskatchewan in preparation for the federal election.

Dealing with the unemployment problem in an address yesterday evening, Mr. Coldwell declared Prime Minister R. B. Bennett had promised in 1902 to end unemployment or perish in the attempt.

"Mr. Bennett did try," said Mr. Coldwell, "and he is perishing in the attempt."

"When he realizes he is sinking, he is looking for a lifeline by adopting certain reforms. He sees the good ship C.C.F. going by, but a lifeline is not enough now unless you can get on the ship. And the ship is not very anxious to take such a weighty passenger."

The C.C.F. would co-operate in the "reform" of the C.P. but it realized they would be of little value. A new system was the only answer to present conditions, he declared.

U.S. President, Passing Two-year Milestone in Office, Finds Problems Growing

Associated Press
Washington, March 4.—President Roosevelt passed the two-year milestone in office today when Congress in revolt and major New Deal projects on trial in the courts charged with unconstitutionality.

Still smiling and outwardly cheerful, health and spirits unaffected by the unrelenting grind of his high magistracy, the president faced a situation sharply contrasting with that of the dismal, yet hopeful day of his inauguration.

With his congressional lieutenants he set about digging the gigantic work-relief bill out of a quagmire of dispute in a Senate which scarcely two years ago was ready to respond immediately to his every legislative wish.

Just ahead lay the inevitable row with Congress over payment of the soldiers' bonus, with the House apparently prepared to vote approval, Senate leaders anxiously counting votes, and Mr. Roosevelt ready to exercise his veto power.

Plans for economic rehabilitation and reconstruction which occupied the thoughts of the chief executive and his advisers two years ago today were caught in the web of the nation's judicial system, most of them bound for eventual Supreme Court inspection and dissection.

The NRA, most spectacular of these, was already before the high tribunal, indicated as unconstitutional by lower courts. The TVA, the last project for developing the electrical resources of the Tennessee valley, lay in the same category.

One high constitutional hurdle was safely passed. The court, in ruling on the gold case, while not fully sustaining the government, made possible the unaltered continuation of the Roosevelt monetary programme.

Three Persons Killed and Eight Wounded at Guadalupe, Mexico

Associated Press
Guadalupe, Mexico, March 4.—Three persons were killed yesterday and eight wounded when shots were fired into a group of more than 8,000 persons marching through the streets in protest against socialistic education.

Leaders of the demonstrators charged "red shirts" and police disguised as civilians fired into their closely packed ranks as they were passing the municipal palace.

Many women and children were among the parades. As the shots rang out, three men, a lawyer, a student and a farmer, fell dead. Two men and six women were wounded, some seriously.

Police arrested thirty-eight persons, twenty-two of them women, as organizers of the demonstration meeting, which they said was held without a permit.

Part of the crowd started to parade toward the palace. As they were arriving at the plaza the shooting began.

Governor Everardo Topile of the state of Jalisco said the killings resulted from manoeuvres by "fanatics and clericals," and that he intended to "employ an iron hand to suppress any further disorders."

DOWN AT DAYTONA

MOST OF US ARE QUITE CONTENT to jog along the highways at thirty or forty miles an hour, if we are thinking in terms of automobile travel; but Sir Malcolm Campbell, thinking in terms of his famous Bluebird, would regard this as merely a mail's crawl. Sir Malcolm, however, is not always trying to amble along at 300 miles an hour, for when he is at home in England he and his young son are ardent cycling enthusiasts and often can be seen "pushing" their wheels along the beautiful countryside of Kent.

Sir Malcolm just now, of course, has serious business to attend to at Daytona Beach in Florida. He wants to break the record he set up two years ago of more than 272 miles an hour, for he is not content with the reputation of being the only person who has ever traveled over land at more than 200 miles an hour. He is fully convinced that his machine will do 300 if he can get the sort of beach conditions that are essential for such a grueling physical and mechanical ordeal. On a one-way run yesterday he went 270, but found trouble on his return journey. "I won't drive Bluebird again until the beach is considerably better," he said as he hopped out of the cockpit. And to show his confidence in her he told his friends at Daytona that if he could not get 275 miles an hour out of her, "you can have her."

As this is written Sir Malcolm is hoping that conditions soon will enable him to make another attempt to break his record. All will wish him well. Meanwhile, however, he must be suffering from the strain of waiting and from the bad luck which seems to have dogged him so far. He says he is taking no notice of the advice of what the Associated Press correspondent calls "wivel chair athletes who hold their hats at twenty miles an hour." At fifty years of age, Campbell is something of a physical marvel.

BEHIND THE TIMES

CANADIAN PEOPLE WHO ENJOY A wide measure of self-government naturally are watching with considerable interest the discussion of the British government's bill which is to mark another step towards Dominion status for India. The measure is being subjected to bitter criticism from a section of the British Parliament which is led by Mr. Winston Churchill, although, of course, the government will easily be able to command sufficient majority for its ultimate passage to the statute books.

The great bulk of the press is supporting the government and its staunchest champion in the House is former Conservative Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin. Outstanding among its newspaper opponents are The London Morning Post and The London Daily Mail. Their general claim is that Britain is surrendering India to the extremists. The implication of their attitude is that they would try to keep the great Oriental empire by force. This could not be done indefinitely and supporters of the legislation claim such a policy would have disastrous consequences.

Some comments in a recent editorial in The Daily Mail on the India Bill would almost seem to suggest that we were living in the early Victorian era. It calls the bill a "swindle because, among other things, it takes away from young men and young women of this country (Britain) those opportunities of employment and commerce which through their forefathers' associations with India during six generations brought great wealth to Britain."

The Mail also sees in the bill a menace to the British army in India because it assumes it will enable the extremists to wreck the railways "and stop the transport of British troops and the ammunition and supplies which are vitally necessary for them." A cold shiver appears to be running down its editorial spine because "the control of these lines is to pass to Indians, while Europeans will be eliminated from their staffs." There is not a word in this comment about the aerial bomber!

Opponents of the India Bill do not seem to realize that when a people want to run their own country they either are going to do it through the operation of modern constitutional processes or by methods which are not pleasant to contemplate. The Irish Free State with only a small population is a case in point. But wiser members of the British Parliament and those newspapers which recognize economic and political realities are not likely to be moved by that element which seems to think that India ought to submit to continued subordination.

ARMAMENTS AND GOVERNMENTS

AS THE UNITED STATES SENATE moves closer to the passage of a law limiting war-time profits in the munitions trade, senators who have investigated that traffic are reported to be preparing a new blast at the way it was handled in the last war.

Members of the Nye committee, it is said, will seek to prove that there was something very like a strike of capital in the most crucial moments. Big munitions makers, they charge, delayed production to quibble over profits at a time of national crisis. Senator Nye says bluntly that they "forgot patriotism for personal gain." It is impossible to forecast what sort of law will come out of this. But whatever it does, it will simply be a reflection of the great change which has come over war-making in the last generation.

Nowadays, when a nation goes to war, it must go as a unit. The soldier is only the spearhead of its effort. Behind him all the wealth and industry of the nation ought to be united.

The amount of what a farmer may raise, the amount of money a mechanic may demand for his work, the extent to which a maker of ten-cent-store novelties may buy rubber for his needs, the proportion of steel production which can be allotted to the railroad, the interest a banker may charge for loans—all these things, and a myriad more, should be governmentally-controlled as strictly as the movements of the fighting forces are controlled.

This is because the shape of modern war has broadened so tremendously. In the old days war was carried on chiefly by professional armies, augmented by volunteers. Except for raising prices and a shortage of manpower, a nation's daily life was not very greatly affected by the war.

But now business can not be conducted as usual; every citizen and every institution must be a cog in the war-making machine. It is for that reason that the old, individualistic method of creating and marketing war supplies is obsolete in war time. Individual rights must be over-ruled. Freedom, in the ordinary sense, is suspended for duration of the conflict.

That is why government control over the munitions trade is essential. It is also the greatest of all arguments against war itself.

POLICE COMMISSION MEETINGS

PRIOR TO THE RECONSTRUCTION OF the Board of Police Commissioners by special legislation adopted by the Legislature on the motion of the late government three years ago, meetings of that body were held in public and, as such, were open to the press. This, indeed had been the custom for many years, whether the board was appointive or elective. Since the last change, made in somewhat sensational circumstances, in which the control of the city's police service was transferred from a board elected by the public to one composed of the mayor, the police magistrate and the county court judge, appointed by the government, a long established custom in regard to the publicity of the board's meetings has been discarded.

While there is nothing sinister in this condition, since the members of the board are dignitaries of high repute whose conscientiousness and ability are not open to question, in view of the fact that they control the operations of a most important public service, which costs the taxpayers more than a hundred thousand dollars a year, the people should have a clearer picture of their meetings than they have now.

In Vancouver, for example, and in many other communities where police boards are constituted in the same way as the Victoria board, regular meetings are open to the press, subject to the reservation that when the members go into committee their deliberations are conducted behind closed doors. The fact that the board is not an elective body but is appointed by the government is beside the point; what is to the point is that the police service is a public one and is maintained by the taxpayers.

REVOLUTION IN RUBBER

IF EXPERIMENTS NOW BEING CON- ducted at the University of Illinois pan out as successfully as the university's Prof. George L. Clark expects them to, one of those unexpected and incalculable revolutions in large-scale industry may presently be thrust upon us.

Professor Clark has been able to isolate a molecule of the rubber plant under the microscope and have a good look at it—something which science had supposed to be quite impossible. The research thus begun, he says, may well lead to synthetic production of rubber as good and as cheap as the natural product. It is not hard to see the industrial upset that would take place if this became a fact. A tremendous new industry would be developed in many countries, while simultaneously the enormous rubber plantations of the tropics would stagnate.

Hundreds of millions of dollars in investments would be shaken, the destinies of huge areas would be changed—all because a scientist peered into a microscope!

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

CANADIAN-AMERICAN TRADE

The Detroit News

Reciprocity was advanced as a cardinal policy in Roosevelt's platform and campaign for election in 1923. The world of business and politics have since been interestedly awaiting its test on a scale that counts. Canada usually ranks as this country's first or second best customer. Generally speaking, and especially here in Detroit and Michigan, the Canadian negotiations face Tankees trading with the crucial test. The 75 per cent decline of commerce between Canada and the United States from 1929 to 1933 must be attributed as much to the existing mutually prohibitive tariffs as to the depression. A deal figuring out a fair one and starting commerce moving more freely across the border should soon record new highs for exchanges of imports and exports. We hope it is fearlessly and effectively consummated. Neighbour peoples are involved, having many mutual interests. In the coming certain great development of Canada, U.S. manufacturers will serve best and be the cheapest if not barred out by impossibly high tariffs. So, too, of the markets on a growing scale in the United States for many Canadian products.

LESSONS OF THE 'I'M ALONE' CASE

The Schenectady Union Star

The century of peace between the United States and Canada along thousands of miles of unguarded frontier is maintained by something mightier than bristling bayonets. It rests upon understanding and upon a basis of fair dealing such as that expressed in the recent ruling in the case of the Canadian schooner, I'm Alone. . . . Which is better, to settle slight differences in this many why, or to bluster and roar about and make it a case for war? Imagine what such an incident would have meant, if it had occurred between two countries in Europe—almost any two. Imagine what would have occurred if a German boat had sunk a Japanese schooner. Taken merely on its lowest ethical basis—the saving in money costs—the $25,000, for which this case is settled, would hardly fire one round of the big guns of a single cruiser. But the money cost is not the main factor. The main factor is the question of right or wrong; the willingness to submit to a court; and, thereafter, the willingness to abide by the court's decision. It is a tremendous object-lesson to a world that is tearing itself into delirium tremens over naval ratios.

A THOUGHT

When the poor and needy seek water, and there is none, and their tongue falter for thirst, I the Lord will hear them, I the God of Israel will not forsake them. —Isaiah xlii 17.

We trust as we love and where we love, if we love Christ much, surely we shall trust Him much. —T. Brooks.

Loose Ends

Mr. Prajadhipok is just Mr. Prajadhipok now — at Bridge River they are prosperous — a declaration of independence is declared — and a bishop goes fishing.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

EX-KING

MR. PRAJADHIPOK has abdicated the throne of Siam, and you would think by all the fuss the newspapers make over the event that it mattered. It is curious to observe just what fellows can always keep in the news, regardless of their position and origin. Half the respectable rulers of the world are never heard of, but King Carol of Roumania is always in the headlines because he has a red-headed girl friend. If it hadn't been for her, no one would have heard of Roumania. Mr. Prajadhipok, a thoroughly respectable little gentleman of no consequence, was founded and lionized by the North American people who, ordinarily, have a violent prejudice against the negro race, because, for some reason or other, he was interesting. If it hadn't been for him, no one would have heard of Siam.

What a small country needs if it is going to get on in the world is a ruler with a dash of color, a bit of glamour and, if possible, a flair for unconventional love affairs. We never seem to get such fellows at the head of our government in Canada. With the result that we are less known at large than the smelly, tenth-rate kingdoms of the heathens. The trouble, of course, is that the world never is and never has been interested in greatness, seldom recognizes it until long after greatness has died. It is interested in noise, in color and in sex-appeal.

UMBRELLAS

THAT, HOWEVER, is not the point of immediate concern. The point of immediate concern is the fate of the umbrellas. Mr. Prajadhipok, you know, was the descendant of the Great God Buddha, Half-brother of the Sun, Brother of the Moon, Ruler of the Winds and Tides (or something like that), and, most important of all, Possessor of the Twelve Golden Umbrellas. He doubt he can abandon the sun, the moon, the winds and the tides without gravely inconveniencing them. But what happens to those twelve golden umbrellas now that the possessor has settled down in England?

This is a question much more worthy of consideration than the internal politics of Siam. Perhaps, after all, they'll let Mr. Prajadhipok keep the umbrellas. In England he'll need them.

IT'S THE SYSTEM

THE OTHER night I was talking to George Murray, who represents the constituency of Lillico in the Legislature. He told me, with rare satisfaction, that the voters' list in the Bridge River gold camp had risen from about 300 in the last provincial election to over 1,300. Where, only a few years ago, a half dozen prospectors roamed the silent hills, over 1,300 men are at work. The echoes to the sound of blasting and mighty machinery, the road is crowded day and night with trucks.

Bridge River, says George, is the only territory in the province where no one is on relief. Yes, things are booming at Bridge River. Because at Bridge River they are digging far into the hills, hoisting out innumerable tons of rock and extracting from it tiny quantities of a minor metal called gold, and they are shipping the gold to the mint at Ottawa, where, with elaborate precautions, it will be put underground again and kept there forever, unused, utterly useless.

And across a few valleys, eastward by the Cariboo Road, the farmers are raising tomatoes and beef and potatoes and other things that men must have to eat, and the farmers can't get enough for their own production. This isn't called lunacy, as you might think. It is called an economic system. And

SIDE GLANCES

By George Clark

"It's going to sound damn funny. Our getting a divorce when we haven't told anybody about our marriage."

LETTERS

A FELLOW who writes a column in the Vancouver newspaper has lately proclaimed a sort of declaration of independence for this trade. He boldly announces that a person is not bound to answer or take any notice of letters that are not addressed, that come from people one doesn't know and contain information in which one hasn't the slightest interest. Finally, he lays down the principle that any letter worth answering will be answered somehow. If it isn't answered, it isn't worth answering. I gladly accept this rule, as if they live in Calgary, why they don't hear from me.

BISHOP

ACCORDING to that unimpeachable authority, Mr. Tom Merriman, the latest news from Calgary—Calgary, you know, is a charming city in the warm, semi-tropical belt where the bananas, oranges and prunes grow—the latest news from Calgary is this: Bishop Sherman, the able churchman who introduced our own Mr. Gerry McGeer into the pulpit of the pro-cathedral to talk about the gold standard money changers in the temple, has lately taken up the cudgels in defence of his city. Against whom? Well, whom does anyone in Calgary take up his cudgels against these days? I give you three guesses.

Yes, and having defended his city from the foul aspersions of a certain visitor, Bishop Sherman stated that he had once spent a whole summer quite close together. It is also said that a fellow once caught some fish, too, but, on account of my own experience, I rather doubt it.

Now, if Bishop Sherman's remark hadn't been broadcast, I wouldn't have brought such a painful subject up again, but a respect for accurate history compels me to say that since this extraordinary business occurred, I have been receiving a series of secret communications from Calgary. The writers insist that their names be kept private. They know that if they were discovered they would probably be lynched by infuriated mobs. But they write to tell me that everything I wrote about Calgary is perfectly true, even if I didn't believe it or mean it at the time. It is appalling to realize what traitors the unsuspecting people of Calgary are harboring in their midst.

Meanwhile it is rather appalling to be a public issue as I have been down there. It terrifies you at first to have your name in the paper and in the pulpit. It reminds you of that other Sherman who said that war was hell. Still, you get used to it after a while. You become quite hardened and callous. You don't even get excited when a bishop calumniates our climate. You realize that the poor fellow probably didn't catch a single fish that day, and under those circumstances a fisherman will say anything.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALICE MICHAELS

SONG FOR TWILIGHT

Men love the sun and great with joy its beams untainted by alloy.
 Who thrill with every dawn of day;
 And yet how grateful shadows are
 How kind the dusk and evening stars!
 Men love their toil, each freeman asks his share of usefulness in tasks
 That fill the hours with content,
 And seek their sleep when gold is spent.
 Yet still, to every weary breast
 How sweet to sleep, how dear is rest!

CURIOSITY
 I sometimes like to walk about and watch the people as they go. And wonder what has brought them out. To trod the sidewalks they go with know.
 I am best with questioning.
 There is so much I'd like to ask.
 What is that woman's wedding ring?
 And does that laborer like his task?
 Why is that face so sad to see?
 What sudden grief has chilled her heart?
 What does that young man hope to be?
 Who drives to drive a grocer's cart?
 What story could that old man tell?
 Who walks with such uncertain tread?
 A doctor rings a neighbor's bell.
 I wonder who is sick in bed.
 But there are things I'd never know.
 For like a very foolish dove,
 And thinking I might be a fool,
 I stopped and asked a woman once:
 "How can I be so cruel and unkind?
 That you so troubled seem to be?
 What weight of sorrow lies behind
 That look of anguish all can see?"
 No longer was she tearful now.
 But with the stoniest of stare
 She looked me over and replied:
 "I wish you'd mind your own affairs."

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

(From The Times Files)

Sixty thousand dollars' worth of property sold in one day is not at all a bad record for a place the size of Sidney. That is what was done yesterday, the whole being handled by W. F. Copeman, the real estate agent at that place. The properties were in North Saanich, and some of them directly contiguous to the town of Sidney.

A force of over 100 men are being constantly employed at Jordan River at the site of the power plant for the Vancouver Island Power Company, and work on the project is being rushed as rapidly as weather conditions will permit.

This evening the members of the Legislative press gallery will hold the first of what is intended to be an annual dinner. The function will take place in the dining-room of the buildings, and will be attended by Speaker Eberts, Premier McBride and several of his colleagues and members of the House.

On Saturday the Columbia College basketball team from New Westminster will visit the city and play a friendly match against the local high school five at the Assembly Hall in the evening.

The contract for the new Grand Trunk Pacific wharf in this city has been awarded to C. J. Johnson and Company, Vancouver and Seattle. The intention of the company is to have the work rushed with all expedition so as to be ready for the arrival of the new electric mail boat being completed in the Old Country.

WARNING!

The Times urges its correspondents to restrict their contributions to 600 words. Hereafter it positively will not print communications which exceed that length.

These letters must be plainly written on one side of the paper only, and must be accompanied by the names and addresses of the writers, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Letters will not be re-written for publication. If they are not legible no attempt will be made to read them.

Letters not used will not be returned to the writers.

Letters containing offensive personal reflections will not be printed.

These rules, which hereafter will be carried out absolutely, are designed as much for the protection of our patient readers as for that of The Times.

CAUTION!

The Times will not assume responsibility for the return to the writers of articles sent for publication in the Correspondence Column or anywhere else in this newspaper, whether they are published or not, unless they have been specially solicited.

under this heading is such a flagrant perversion of the truth that it should not go unchallenged, even though I dislike publicity. One man in Britain revived and declared he met relatives, friends and others well dressed and happy; another man in U.S.A. also revived and all he knew was a blank.

You declare there is no one on earth competent to contradict the experience of these two men brought from "the other side," and that the best minds of the world are only groping with infantile feebleness at things spiritual.

They should not be groping in darkness because the true light is available for the most unlearned and humble of the world if they will but take the trouble to search for it.

Our dictionaries explain the word "dead" as being without life; that "death" is state of being dead, extinction or cessation of life.

The Psalmist says: "The dead praise not the Lord, neither any that go down into silence."

The Wise Man tells us: "Whosoever is dead shall not be revived with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whether thou goest." And again, "For the living know that they shall die, but the dead know not anything."

The only exceptions to this condition of all mankind who go down into death is that class who are "changed in a moment, in a twinkling of an eye" to immortal life—a very few who live an earnest Christ-like life. The rest of mankind await the resurrection Day in death-dreams, extinction, oblivion, sleep, the grave.

Further comment of mine would be unnecessary.

Why do not editors in particular and people in general take the simple words of truth?

ALASKA HIGHWAY

To the Editor:—Much has been said and written about Alaska highway, and I am impelled to make the following comment: The road will not be built until Canada and the United States each have a king over them, and that time is not far distant. It would be absolutely folly to build it now. The road work will be far more than any one has yet admitted. The mountains are very steep and blazes would precipitate slides so many and enormous that bankrupt men could not remove. Should the road become a fact before recovery, the expense of upkeep would be too great for slides would be practically continuous along parts of the highway, and the number of bridges and fillings would be enormous. We should improve existing roads by all means, for such action would save much wear and tear for all traffic vehicles. Why should tourists want to go overland when they can take passage on pauper lines, in clean comfort, sailing from United States and Canadian ports through a thousand miles of rugged, clean grandeur on both sides of our wonderful inside passage?

During the new world order ("just around the corner") British Columbia, Yukon and Alaska will become rambling grounds, beyond the most optimistic dreams of super-dreamers. In this new world order, Jesus Christ, King of Kings and Lord of Lords will appoint kings and lords who will serve man with divine unselfishness and elections will cease, and man will love the new order a whole lot for earth's nightmarish will be over for good, praise God, amen.

The writer portrayed beautiful northern B.C., Yukon and Alaska thirty-four years ago, and again over twenty-five years there. Trusting this little letter may not be in vain.

FRASER RIVER BRIDGE OPPOSED

Vancouver, March 4.—Action of the British Columbia government in authorizing construction of a toll bridge over the Fraser River at New Westminster is condemned in a resolution passed at a mass meeting of citizens here. The resolution also calls on Premier T. A. Pattullo to resign.

The resolution further urges the Lieutenant-Governor to call on the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation opposition to form a government and present themselves to the electorate for endorsement.

It states that "the circumstances surrounding the granting of the present contract for the building of the bridge are such as to create the minds of our citizens that this matter is not being dealt with in a clean, open and above board manner."

Dr. Lyle Tillford, who called the meeting, announced protest meetings would be held in towns throughout the Fraser valley and a delegation would be sent to interview Premier Pattullo.

PRAJADHIPOK QUILTS THRONE

tion mentioned no successor to the throne, the name of Prince Ananda, eleven-year-old Siaman schoolboy now at a school in Switzerland, has been mentioned as possible successor.

NOT AIDING UPRISE
 London, March 4.—The letter of abdication written by King Prajadhipok of Siam said he would not have anything to do with any revolution which might be launched on his behalf.

"I have no wish anyone should create any disturbance in the country on my behalf," said a paragraph. "If anyone should use my name in this connection, it must be understood it would be without my agreement, approval or support."

NO OBJECTIONS
 London, March 4.—The London Daily Mail in a dispatch from Lausanne, Switzerland, said the throne of Siam was formally offered to eleven-year-old Prince Ananda yesterday, following the abdication of his uncle, Prajadhipok.

In a modest "prison" in Lausanne, where he is enrolled in an exclusive school, The Mail said, Prince Ananda learned for the first time his uncle had surrendered the throne.

The Mail says it was learned from an intimate friend of the family that the boy's mother does not object to her son becoming king.

Bangkok, March 4.—Governmental circles to-day said the abdication of King Prajadhipok had been received and accepted.

The formal announcement of the Siaman government's action. It was expected to be made to-morrow. So far as is known, no definite reply has yet been received from Prince Ananda Mahidol, young nephew of the former king who is expected to become his successor.

ADVERTISE IN THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. J. W. Pendergast Johnson left this afternoon for their country home at Qualicum, where they will spend the next week or ten days.

Mr. Brian Cook, the noted English artist, who is visiting in Victoria, is a guest at The Angela.

Mr. A. C. Baker Jr. of Victoria is staying at the Forest Inn, Shawigan Lake.

Miss Nellie Downes of Vancouver is visiting on Vancouver Island as the guest of friends at Brentwood.

Mrs. E. M. Cuppage, Beach Drive, motored to Shawigan Lake to spend the week-end at the Forest Inn.

Mrs. C. Clark and family motored up-island on Sunday and will spend a week at the Forest Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Genn have left for Shawigan Lake and will spend a few days at Forest Inn.

Mrs. Nora McKinney has arrived in the city and will be a guest at the James Bay Hotel for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kohl, St. Patrick Street, spent the week-end at the Forest Inn, Shawigan Lake.

Mrs. M. Brock of Vancouver has returned to her home on the mainland after visiting with friends in Victoria for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patrick, Joan Crescent, who have been visiting with members of the family in Vancouver, have returned home.

Mrs. F. J. McIntosh and Miss Elizabeth McIntosh of the Guest House spent the week-end at the Forest Inn, Shawigan Lake.

Mrs. James Strong (nee Kathleen Holland), 1330 Hampshire Road, will be "at home" on Friday, March 8, from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Miss Courtney of the staff of the Vancouver Normal School spent the week-end in Victoria as the guest of Miss E. Allen, Full Street.

Mrs. F. L. Scott of Ganges Harbor sailed aboard the Ruth Alexander on Saturday evening for California, where she will spend a month as the guest of Mrs. A. M. Baldwin.

About thirty friends of the Misses Frances and Audrey Tremayne assembled at their home at the Quinlan Station, William Head, on Saturday evening and held a "surprise" party.

Miss Audrey Stewart of Vancouver, who came over to attend the United Services ball and who has been the guest of Lieutenant-Commander V. S. Godfrey and Mrs. Godfrey, Lampson Street, while in Victoria, returned this afternoon to her home on the mainland.

Mr. Harry Morden of Vancouver spent the week-end in Victoria with his sister, Mrs. Gordon Hunter, Belleville Street. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Hunter entertained a few guests at the tea-hour in compliment to her brother, whose present wedding will take place this week. Mr. John Knight of Sooke entertained the guests with moving pictures of a trip through Africa and later the guest of honor was presented with a small "shower."

Mrs. M. Barker visited on Friday evening at the home of her mother, Mrs. Hattie McGregor, Cadboro Bay, in compliment to her sister, Mrs. B. Wheatley, whose wedding will take place this week. Mr. John Knight of Sooke entertained the guests with moving pictures of a trip through Africa and later the guest of honor was presented with a small "shower."

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Randle of Nanaimo and their son, Charles, were the guest of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hubbard, 137 Clarence Street, over the week-end. Messrs. Jim and Charles Townsend, sons of Col. Townsend of Dawson, Yukon Territory, who are on their way to California, were also guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard at the week-end.

A delightful programme has been arranged in connection with the tea which the Women's Association of the First United Church will hold in the schoolroom on Wednesday afternoon. Piano solos will be contributed by Mrs. J. P. Jeffrey and Miss Barbara Fraser, vocal recitals by Mrs. T. Bowden and Mrs. George Norris; violin solos by John Pimm, and a Fisher's Hornpipe will be danced by Catherine Firth, Nan and Marnie Wilson. Presiding at the tea tables will be Mrs. W. T. Straith, Mrs. A. Chisholm, Mrs. M. L. McLennan and Mrs. E. S. Farr.

Of much interest to Victoria friends was the christening which took place at St. James' Church, Vancouver, last evening. The officiating was Father Whelan, officiating at the six-and-a-half-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. J. Preiswerk. The baby was named Nina, and sponsors were Miss Peggy Williamson and Mr. Philip Procter. Later a reception was held at the home of the baby's parents on West Thirty-seventh, when spring flowers in pink and white tones were used. Miss Williamson presided at the tea table. Dr. and Mrs. Gustav Preiswerk of Victoria are grandparents of the little girl.

Miss Phyllis Gates, who will sail on Saturday for the Orient, en route to India, entertained a number of her friends at her home on Fairfield Road recently, when her guests included Mrs. M. Laughlin, Mrs. R. Stewart, Mrs. J. Marshall, Mrs. A. Welton, and the Misses O'Neill, Allison and Mildred Chrove, Peggy Pat, Dymona Owens, Alberta White, Alice George, Letta Garland, Helen Jenkin, Gay Dunnett, Rena Fleming, Miriam Diggon, Emma McClelland, Florence Markar, Miss Corcoran, Irene White, Betsy Armstrong, Peggy Wharton, Evelyn Olsen, Nita Hensley, Lois Peasey and Sydney Pat.

In honor of the second birthday of her little son, Barry Dale, Mrs. H. Caviness entertained a number of little guests and their mothers at her home, 543 Harbinger Avenue. The tea table was gay with yellow streamers and balloons, and a miniature birthday cake, complete with two tiny yellow candles, formed the centre-piece. The guests included Mrs. I. Champion, with Bruce and Gale; Mrs. R. Pinner, Dorcas and Catherine; Mrs. Fawcett and Bernice; Mrs. D. Bone, Barbara and Beverly; Mrs. McGregor and Margaret; Mrs. A. Rex and Desmond; Mrs. J. Craig and Betty Ann; Mrs. Ewert and Jean; Mrs. J. McIntosh and Ann; Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. W. Champion, Mrs. F. McTaggart, Miss Anderson and Miss Morley.

TO BE HOSTESS FOR SHOWER

The annual linen shower arranged by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Y.M.C.A. has for a number of years assumed a social, as well as a philanthropic aspect, by reason of it being held in the homes of hostesses prominent in the social world. This year's hostess will be Mrs. Henley, who is throwing open her charming home, 1301 Rockland Avenue, on Wednesday, March 13, for the shower. The "X" has fifty-one bedrooms to equip, and it is hoped that there will be a generous response to the appeal for sheets, towels, pillowslips, and similar articles on March 13.

Saanich C.C.F. Are Hosts at Social

The Ward 4 Saanich C.C.F. Club held their usual weekly card party in the Marigold Hall on Friday evening with a large number present. The aggregate competition which has now entered on the last lap is causing much interest and excitement. T. Neilson, who jumped into the lead at the opening, but slipped badly during the later part of February and was in danger of being displaced as leader, was again favored by fortune with a smile, which enabled him to strengthen his position at the top by a substantial lead.

The following were the prize winners: Ladies, first, P. Hooper; second, K. Youell; third, Mrs. T. Hooper. Gents, first, T. Neilson; second, B. Fossard; third, J. C. Shingleton.

Dainty refreshments were served at the close by Mesdames Goldie, Warnock, Shingleton, Hooper, Youell, Giron and Hall. A pleasant evening was spent by all present, and next week's party is being looked forward to.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

Women of all denominations in all parts of the world will unite in a day of prayer on Friday, March 8.

A service will be held in First United Church, Victoria, beginning at 8 o'clock. The theme will be "Beal To One Another's Burden."

Women taking part will represent the Anglican, United Church, Baptist, Presbyterian, Salvation Army, Lutheran and Missionary Alliance.

The offerings from the day of prayer are given to the writing, translating and printing of Christian literature in many lands.

The service for the occasion will be by Mrs. Kenesley. A service for young women will be held in the evening at the same church.

The many friends of Rev. Bruce Gray and Mrs. Gray will be interested to learn of the birth of a son to them at the Vancouver General Hospital on Saturday, March 2. Rev. Bruce Gray, before being appointed to a pastorate at Point Grey, was assistant pastor at the Metropolitan United Church, Victoria, and Mrs. Gray was the former Mary Wallace of this city.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Evans, 1253 Chapman Street, on Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. R. Rock (nee Margaret David), following their wedding. Daffodils and tulips were used in decoration of the table from which the buffet supper was served. Among those present to tender their felicitations to the newly-weds were Mr. and Mrs. J. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. B. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Williams, Mrs. Sargent, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Gurney, Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Eason, Mrs. Bobb Jones, Mrs. Love, Mrs. M. A. Lewis, Mr. R. Williams, Mrs. Thomas, Misses A. Mason, I. Evans, M. Fraser, J. Tate, R. Mason and E. Evans; Messrs. J. Mason, Daniel Evans, David Evans, O. Jones, B. Mason, E. Mason and A. Mills.

On Sunday afternoon Rev. A. M. Acheson officiated at the christening of Ernest Simpson, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Hogg, Oak Bay, at the home of Mrs. Hogg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Simpson, "Sherwood," Peaty Lane, Langford. The godparents were Mr. A. A. Tinker and Mr. Andrew Wright. Miss A. Dick stood proxy in the unavoidable absence of Mrs. Tinker. Tea followed the service, a beautifully decorated stand in pink and white crepe paper on which stood a dainty doll's buggy containing a wee Cupid, was the attractive centrepiece. The christening cake was part of the bridal cake from the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Hogg three years ago. Guests present were Rev. A. M. Acheson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Hogg, Mr. and Mrs. P. Smadley, Mrs. C. N. Young, Miss A. Dick, the Misses M. and J. Tinker, Miss Freethy, the Misses Betty and Gladys Smadley, Miss Lucy Hogg and Mr. A. Wright.

Among the guests registered at the Dominion Hotel are: Mr. Grant Stewart, City; Mr. Charles Wong, Vancouver; Capt. D. Clinton, Vancouver; Mr. P. Soon, Vancouver; Mr. W. A. Meredith, Portland; Mr. G. Lisham, Vancouver; Mr. N. Nelson, Ganges; Mr. and Mrs. H. Jonason, Vancouver; Mrs. C. Grassie, Duncan; Mr. Dutch Howland, Hollywood; Mr. Buddy O'Brien, New York; Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hogg, Mr. and Mrs. P. Smadley, Mrs. C. N. Young, Miss A. Dick, the Misses M. and J. Tinker, Miss Freethy, the Misses Betty and Gladys Smadley, Miss Lucy Hogg and Mr. A. Wright.

At the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., on Saturday evening, the marriage was solemnized by Mary Verena, daughter of Mrs. Fred Humphries, 1434 Harrison Street, and of the late Mr. Humphries, son of Mrs. L. Fisher of Seattle, and of the late Mr. A. C. Minckler, a pioneer of Victoria. Mr. Fred Humphries gave his sister away, and she looked most attractive in an Empire gown of pale blue satin, worn with a cascade to match, fashioned with elbow sleeves edged with fur in two tones of blue. Her hat, of white corded ribbon, was trimmed with a cluster of orange blossoms, and she held a bouquet of Columbia roses, freesias, white heather and asparagus fern. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Irene Humphries, in a charming frock of apricot tulle, tied with an iris-blue velvet sash, and an eggshell hat. She carried a bouquet of roses and white carnations. Mr. Bruce Irvine supported his cousin.

Weddings

MINCKLER-HUMPHRIES

A reception for relatives and a few close friends was held after the service at the home of the bride's mother, where the decorations were carried out in blue, yellow and white. The happy pair stood beneath an arch of greenery, from which was suspended a large white bell, to receive the greetings of the guests, who were welcomed on arrival by Mr. Humphries in a small ensemble of black and white. She was assisted by the groom's grandmother, Mrs. William Irvine, in a gown of Chantrelle flat crepe with brown accessories. Fisher was unable to be present, due to illness. Yellow candles in silver holders and vases of daffodils and blue iris were lavishly scattered. The of the supper table, which was centered with the three-tiered cake set in folds of tulle.

After their wedding trip, for which the bride left in a blue suit and brown accessories, Mr. and Mrs. Minckler will live on Toronto Street.

BARKLEY-PEEL

The marriage took place on February 7 at Pease, Cheshire, England, of Edward Trevor "Jim" Barkley, only son of Captain and Mrs. B. E. Barkley, of Westholme, V.I., and Daphne Grayson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Peel, of Pease Hall, Cheshire, the Rev. E. Armstrong officiating, assisted by the Rev. J. W. Greenstreet. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a classical gown of dull gold, with sun-ray pleated train, and her gold net veil was held in place by a coronet of pearls and diamonds. She carried a sheaf of Harebell lilies, tied with gold.

She was attended by one little girl, Charmian Sparrow, who wore a long frock of granitum red velvet and a wreath of gold leaves in her hair, and by four grown-up bridesmaids, Misses Elizabeth and Araminta Peel (cousins of the bride), Miss Molly Barberville Glegg and Miss Penelope Wilson, also dressed in granitum red velvet, with short trains, carried bouquets of Arum lilies, tied with gold ribbon. Mr. John Michael Peel, brother of the bride, was best man. Mrs. Peel wore a dress of rust colored velvet, with a small hat to tone. Some 300 guests attended a reception at Pease Hall, following which, Mr. and Mrs. Barkley left for Toronto, Portugal, the bride traveling in a dress of tawny matt crepe, with coat and small hat of darker shade.

On their return, Mr. Barkley will take up a position as agent to Lord Crawford of Balcarres, having spent the last five years as sub-agent to Lord Sifton of Tatton.

SICKEN SPINDLES

No, of course that couldn't happen. Not to her. Gale, however, was letting herself get worked up over something imaginary. She'd find a way to meet the bills. And perhaps Phil would find another job in a day or two. Perhaps even, to-morrow, Gale turned away but the icy feeling clung about her heart. "Wait and see what happens," she told herself once more. "Wait and see what happens."

Phil met her as she came from the mail the next afternoon and they went to Mary Cassidy's. It was a grey day. There had been a drizzling rain all morning and, though the rain had ceased, the air was still damp. It was cold now, too, and there was a sharp wind.

Phil said, "Gale, Williams told me the sheriff was down there. He said they were putting Mary's stuff out on the sidewalk."

"They're really putting her out?" I should think Sheriff Whitman would be ashamed of himself!"

"Whitman takes orders from Thatcher just like anyone else in this town. Don't you know that?"

"But a woman like Mary Cassidy, with two little children—"

Gale did not finish the sentence. They turned a corner and, half-way down the block, saw Mary's cottage. A dozen people—men, women and children—were moving about and, at the edge of the walk, in a disorderly pile, a pitiful array of furniture, bedding, dishes, clothes, a bag of coal, and a box containing food. Bed posts were stacked against a table and chairs piled on top. A mattress, doubled over, sprang on the ground, a tea kettle beside it. Half a dozen potatoes had fallen from a sack and a child was picking them up.

Another youngster, a boy of eight or nine, came running toward them. "Mr. Cassidy's been 'visted'!" he shouted. It was a new game to the child and he was excited.

Gale said, "Oh, it's horrible! Look—there's Mary!"

She hurried forward to where Mary Cassidy was sitting in a battered rocking chair. The woman wore a coat, but her head was bare and the wind blew her hair back from her forehead. She sat with shoulders bent, as though trying to protect the wringing two-year-old in her arms. The child was fretful, whimpering.

Gale took one look at her and came to a decision. She said, "Mary, you're coming home with us."

For a moment she thought the older woman hadn't understood. Mary Cassidy said brokenly, "They threw me out of my house. They got no right to do that! They took my job and then they threw me out. Now I got nothing—no place to live, no place to sleep. What're my kids going to do without even a place to sleep? Now I got to get something for 'em to eat!"

"But, Mary," Gale said, "I've just told you. You're coming home with Phil and me."

"I can't leave my stuff here," Mary objected, shaking her head. "I got to stay and watch it."

ON THE AIR

The majority of modern radio receiving sets are calibrated in kilocycles, as printed underneath the name of each station in these lists. Generally the last figure is omitted, and dial readings should be 100, 200, 300, 400, 500, 600, 700, 800, 900, 1,000 kilocycles.

NEW CHRYSLER ON SHOW HERE

Handsome New Models Can Be Seen in Victoria at Showrooms of Begg Co.

In the year 1934, more than 24,000 different cars were produced and sold. In spite of the fact that production of automobiles was concentrated on the production of cars until well into the spring. These cars marked the introduction of an entirely new type of transportation in the higher-priced field. They set the public thinking of motor car transportation in entirely new terms.

The new car was the logical answer to the public's demand for a better ride, for a fuller measure of the things that go to make up comfort—greater roominess in all dimensions, wider doors, better steering, better springs, and a new distribution of weight that would permit the passengers to ride more comfortably in what might be termed a cradle between front and rear wheels.

The automobile has grown up by gradual stages. Even in the days when good roads were few, there were some good cars, cars that gave fine satisfaction according to the standards of their day. As good roads became more extensive and people began to drive greater distances and wanted greater speeds, they demanded a higher degree of mechanical proficiency. They wanted cars in which they could take full advantage of the improved roads. Then after speed and reliability had been attained in all cars, public attention was focused on the quality of the ride. Out of this trend towards comfort and luxury came the airflow.

In the 1935 Airflow, Chrysler is offering a car that is a sensational advance over even the great airflow of 1934. I can say this in all frankness. I had thought that our last year's airflow were by all odds the finest automobiles I had ever driven—and that includes some that would retail for as much as $8,000—but after one ride behind the wheel of the 1935 car, I realized that there was a vast superiority. Nobody could have convinced me that there was room for such a difference unless I had actually experienced it. Strange as it may seem coming from a man who has spent his life in the automobile business, I never had liked to drive my own car until I got my first airflow. It made what might be called a "fin" for me.

Perhaps the most striking thing about the new airflow, when one first drives it, is its superlative ease of handling. A change in the geometry of the steering mechanism has made it the easiest steering car I ever sat in. The biggest of our custom airflow line can be steered with the pressure of one finger. It is easy to park, too, just as easy as any small car, though of course you cannot get big car in a hole intended for a little one. The amount of pressure required to operate clutch and accelerator have been reduced and that is a big factor in driving comfort for, after all, aside from the steering wheel, these are the things you operate most. Everything continues to produce "soft" driving. In the course of even a short journey the driving is fatigue in very apparent.

Among the mechanical improvements that have enabled us to better the famous floating ride of the airflow car this year are the introduction of new front springs and the moving of the stabilizer or sway-bar from the rear to the front of the car. This device counteracts the sway caused by road conditions—be it uneven roads. It keeps the body of the car on an "even keel." The new tapered multi-leaf springs provide a period of movement to conform to the human system and thus do much to banish fatigue. They have more and thinner leaves than any springs previously used and are both more flexible and more constant. They also are equipped with shock absorbers, which remove a source of great annoyance.

The new 1935 Chrysler is now on display at the showrooms of the Begg Motor Company at the corner of Yates and Quadra Streets.

REPORT TELLS PENSION COST

Oak Bay Outlines Individual
Cases Showing Superannuation Weaknesses

The seriousness of the municipal situation in regard to the present scheme under which superannuation is carried out was presented recently in a detailed report to the Oak Bay Council by R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk, who prepared a statement showing the discrepancies existing between the contributions of the municipality and the employee.

In tabulated form a list of all pensioners in the municipality was shown and the portion of their pension to which they had contributed was indicated. This clearly explained how the municipality was rapidly falling behind in its contributions towards pensions, a condition which exists in practically every municipality of the province.

In an effort to overcome this point and strive for some solution which would equalize the contributions without adding so greatly to municipal debt, representatives were successful in having proposed government amendment to the Superannuation Act stayed for one year as far as their application to municipal employees were concerned.

In the meantime municipal and government authorities will confer to try and solve the problem. BUREAU ON MUNICIPALITY. Illustrating the point of contention Mr. Blandy explained that one employee of the municipality, who was superannuated in February, 1934, received $21.50 monthly in a joint life pension, but $21.65 of this was given for prior service, which, in this case, was thirteen years, and this amount was borne wholly by the municipality. Prior service was the time which the employee had been on the payroll prior to the passing of the act in 1927. On this basis, this particular employee had only contributed an amount sufficient to grant him a pension of twenty-five cents monthly.

The total of thirteen pensions paid in the municipality was $4,470 a year, of which $3,733 a year was paid by the municipality for prior service. At the time pensions were granted, the "present worth" of the $3,733 was $90,000, which represented Oak Bay's capital liability for the thirteen pensions now paid. The "present worth" of the pensions referred to the amount due for back service at the time of pensioning.

There are twenty other members of the staff now eligible for "back service" when they are pensioned and, according to Mr. Blandy's figures, this would run the municipal liability up to about $90,000.

This was only one of the phases of the situation which Mr. Blandy dealt with, but it was clearly indicative of the fact that some revision was necessary from the municipal point of view to bring about a more equalized condition.

CADBORO BAY SEA SCOUTS

Cadboro Bay Sea Scouts held their weekly meeting last Friday. Inspection games were played. Instruction in first-aid and signalling followed. About this time of the meeting, Leonard A. Young, "Able" of the Sea Scout pack, arrived. The petrols were then taken to their corners for corner inspection. After returning from the corners the boys had a knotting game. The trophy was won by the Otter patrol, who defeated the Seals in the total of their marks. For the first meeting in the month the high total goes to the Sandpipers. After deciding on hiking on Sunday, the meeting was closed with flagdown.

★ MODERNIZE YOUR HOME ★

FOR GAS OR ELECTRIC RANGES

Through all our stores and through reliable gas and electric dealers we are introducing a radically new plan for the purchase of gas and electric ranges. It's called the "Pay Like Rent Plan" and works just as simply as its name implies. You pay a nominal monthly sum . . . no more than it would cost for rent, and in 60 to 65 months the range is yours.

For the Special Automatic Findlay "Gasco" Range, shown to the left, you just budget 50¢ a day or $1.50 a month!

For the Automatic Hotpoint "Beecce" Electric Range you pay just $2 a month, which amounts to less than 7¢ a day!

You merely make three payments in advance . . . for the Gas Range, $4.50; the Electric Range, $6. No more payments are necessary for three months. Then you pay monthly, like rent, while you are actually enjoying the comforts of automatic cooking.

"PAY LIKE RENT PLAN" SAVES YOU MONEY

One usually expects to pay a premium for the privilege of enjoying easy terms, but under the "Pay Like Rent Plan" you actually pay less than you would for cash!

Here's how it works. If you choose the Findlay "Gasco" Range, you contract to pay $105 for it, fully installed. When you have paid $30 in 60 consecutive monthly payments of $1.50 each, we give you a receipt in full for the range, saving you $16!

If you choose the Hotpoint "Beecce" Electric Range you contract to pay $160 for it, fully installed. When you have paid $150 in 65 consecutive monthly payments of $2 each, we will give you a receipt in full for the range, saving you $30!

SPECIAL TRADE-IN AND REPLACEMENT OFFERS

Under this new plan there is a special allowance for your old coal stove that further reduces the payments on a new gas or electric range. In the case of homes already wired for an electric range there is also a special reduction. Replacement of old gas or electric ranges will be encouraged by an especially attractive arrangement.

These and many other details of the "Pay Like Rent Plan" will be fully explained by a courteous B.C. Electric representative or by your own dealer . . . telephone to-day!

Call at the B.C. Electric or your regular dealer and see these two lovely ranges . . . get your copy of the "Pay Like Rent Plan" folder with all the details of the plan. Learn how simply and economically you and your family can own a modern gas or electric range.

The "Pay Like Rent Plan" is Available Through All B.C. Electric Stores, the National Utilities Ltd., B.C. Electric Subsidiary at Port Alberni, and Your Regular Dealer

It's a Good Trick If You Can Do It

W. G. Findlay, secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, demonstrated a good trick if it is properly done to a few friends the other day.

"You stand close to a door, step back a distance of three feet," he said. "From that position you rest your head against the door. Then, without pushing from the door, with your hands, return to a standing position. I will show you what I mean."

Bill started to demonstrate. Something went wrong. Instead of his head resting against the door it went down through the glass panel.

SEEKING FAIR TRADE BOARD

Merchants of B.C. to Request Legislation at Present Session

Delegates from all parts of British Columbia, representing the provincial branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, will come to Victoria by special train on March 13 to meet the cabinet and appeal for legislation to correct alleged unfair business practices in the province.

The proposed interview was discussed at meetings in Victoria and Vancouver this morning, the latter session hearing a report from George R. Matthews dealing with a recent interview he had with Premier Pattullo on behalf of the association. The Vancouver group is working with a special committee in Victoria consisting of Len Batchelor, chairman; J. H. Fletcher, Goldwyn Terry, Morris Halk, W. W. Crook, J. Purdy, Frank H. Partridge and A. C. Haynes. Nearly 60 per cent of the merchants of the province have already signed a petition requesting the Legislature to take a fair trade board for the province, the association reports.

REPORTS ON INTERVIEW

At the Vancouver meeting this morning Mr. Matthews reported that the interview with the Premier could not be really stated as being satisfactory. The Premier had been in receipt of resolutions from practically all parts of the province asking the provincial government to take a fair trade board, and while recognizing the effect that such practices were having on the individual merchants throughout the province, the Premier appeared reluctant to admit that the situation was as serious as to require government regulation.

Arrangements for the interview with the cabinet were made, however. The secretary was instructed to convey the thanks of the executives to Premier Pattullo for adjourning the sitting of the Legislature early in the day so as to allow for a conference with the cabinet and permit the delegation to return the same day. Knowing that the morning is the proper time for delegations to interview the cabinet, the action of the Premier was appreciated.

Joseph Atkins To Be Buried Here

The remains of Joseph Atkins, who passed away suddenly in Vancouver last Wednesday evening, will arrive in Victoria to-morrow afternoon and will be conveyed direct to Colwood Burial Park where interment will take place at 4:15 o'clock. Funeral arrangements are in the hands of McCall Bros.

Mr. Atkins, who was for forty-seven years a resident of Victoria before leaving to reside in the mainland city, is survived by his widow, at the family residence, 1023 Fourth Avenue West, Vancouver; five daughters, Mrs. C. A. Thomson, Duncan; Mrs. E. Martin, Mrs. F. J. Reader and Mrs. E. Davis, all of Seattle, and Mrs. T. Reed, Los Angeles; also two granddaughters, Mrs. Grace McArthur, Vancouver, and Mrs. Fred Kaye, Portland; one grandson, Henry Ross, Nanaimo, and two great-grandchildren.

The first automobile was equipped with pneumatic tires in 1892 by Panhard and Levasseur, French manufacturers.

At a meeting of Gallipoli veterans held in the Naval Veterans' clubrooms on Saturday evening it was unanimously decided that a reunion dinner be held every year on the nearest Saturday to April 25, to commemorate the landing at Gallipoli. This year the reunion dinner will be held on Saturday, April 27, at the Victoria Hotel. A list of names of the Gallipoli campaign and the honorary secretary, D. C. Hughes, 609 Esquimalt Road, is open to receive further names of veterans who were later as to where the dinner will be held.

B.C. LOWER IN SCHOOL COSTS

Fifth Among Provinces in Per Capita, Minister Points Out

Information contained in a bulletin just issued by the Children's Research Institute of Canada, which shows the B.C. Government's expenditure on education in 1933 was the highest per capita of any province in Canada drew a hot rejoinder this morning from Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, who described the figures as "a matter of book-keeping which is quite misleading."

In the figures published by the institute, it was shown that the government of B.C. spent $4.60 per capita on education in 1933, all other provinces being lower. Ontario was given as $3.28.

"While these figures are technically correct," said Dr. Weir, "the actual fact is that the B.C. Government makes a larger proportional grant for education than in any other province while the municipal administrations in British Columbia make a lower proportional grant, especially when compared with Ontario and the prairie provinces."

To prove this contention, Dr. Weir stated that when total cost of education was taken into account, British Columbia was far down the list. The total cost per capita, both provincial and municipal, is $19.46 in Ontario which heads the list of provinces, and $14.67 in British Columbia, which is fifth among the nine provinces.

"The net result," he declared, "is that the total cost of education to the taxpayer, on a per capita basis, is less in British Columbia than in either Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. The figures given by the institute are misleading on this account as they have a tendency to show British Columbia's school costs high in proportion to those of the other provinces when such is not the case."

LAST RITES HELD

The funeral of George William Rowebottom, who passed away at the family residence, 1950 Granite Street, last Thursday morning, took place Saturday afternoon. Relatives and a very large gathering of friends, many of whom were intimate for more than fifty years, attended. There was a procession of hearse and floral covering the casket and floral rocks at the chapel, which testified to the high respect in which Mr. Rowebottom was held.

Rev. J. H. Warr officiated, and the hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "Rock of Ages." The pallbearers were: James Moss, F. W. Harding, E. J. Monk, William J. Wrigglesworth, E. J. Wood and George Whitfield. The remains were laid at rest in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

Seek Right To Study Accounts

Committee Supports C.C.F. Member in Asking For Hanson Garage Accounts

Upon insistence of Harold E. Winch, C.C.F. Vancouver East, all vouchers for government purchases of the Hanson Garage in Cranbrook should be produced, the public accounts committee of the B.C. Legislature decided this morning to ask the House for the right to go into all government expenditures to date even though they are not in the statement of public accounts and hence not before the committee.

Mr. Winch charged before the committee that too large a proportion of the government business went to the Hanson Garage, of which, he claimed, Hon. F. M. Macpherson, Minister of Public Works, was the president and chief stockholder.

The C.C.F. member said he had telegrams from five other garages in Cranbrook asking for a complete investigation of the Hanson garage accounts.

R. W. Bruhn, Independent, Salmon Arm, also wanted details of government expenditures on equipment and supplies. He showed a check for $1,000.00 which was obtained from Ottawa last year.

E. T. Kenney, Liberal, Shesna, secretary of the committee, declared that the committee should not get into the accounts because they went through in the current year 1934-35 and would not be available until next year. Only the accounts of 1933-34 were now before the committee, he said.

Considerable discussion followed on what rule should be followed. WORLD WAIVE RULE was suggested. Mr. Bruhn said he knew the rule was that the current accounts did not go to the committee, but the rule had been waived in the past. There was nothing to be ashamed of, he said, if the vouchers should be withheld.

W. H. Sutherland, Liberal, Revelstoke, argued that while the information should be shown in time before the Liberals had been blocked from perusing current accounts under the Tolmie administration.

Mr. Winch declared the telegrams he had received showed that the charges, and there was no reason why the committee should have to wait a year to clear them up. One telegram said the government had spent $10,000 in one month at the Hanson garage, he said.

He quoted five telegrams from garage firms, declaring: "These firms say they are not getting on the business and we want to know why."

"One of them wrote to the minister and asked for a share of the work and didn't even get a reply," he added. "A heated argument then developed as to which course the committee should follow, and finally Thomas King, Liberal, Columbia, moved that to settle the issue the Department of National Defence send five Ford cars in the Kootenay district, and since the Hanson Garage was the only agency for this type of car the cars were purchased there. The province had to buy the cars at the request of the National Defence Department."

Committee members also sought details of the expense account of Premier Pattullo and Major A. F. M. Moodie, former assistant to the Premier, on their trip to Ottawa. These were given by the Auditor General, who said the total was $1,200 for Premier Pattullo and $600 for Major Moodie.

Mr. Kenney explained the votes had been authorized by order-in-council and no detailed accounts were submitted.

Mr. Bruhn protested that details should have been given. It was a "terrible thing," he said, that $2,000 of public money could be spent without a reason being given for it.

LUMBER YARDS HERE BOUGHT

F. Hawes and G. Thornbury Buy Shawinigan Like Business From Munroe

Purchase of the Victoria retail business and the Government Street supply yards of the Shawinigan Lake Lumber Company by Fred Hawes and George Thornbury, backed by local interests, was announced to-day.

The sale was made by William Munroe, head of the Shawinigan Lake Company, who is retiring from the retail lumber field here to devote himself to the rebuilding of the mill at Shawinigan Lake destroyed by fire last summer.

The Shawinigan Lake Company's city yards have been a big factor in the local lumber field since they were established by the elder Munroe some thirty-eight years ago, to provide an outlet for the production of his mill at the up-land lake.

Both Mr. Hawes and Mr. Thornbury are expert lumber trade men. They have been in the business for many years and have been officials of the Canadian Puget Sound organization here. Mr. Hawes will be managing director of the new organization and Mr. Thornbury secretary.

At the C.C.F. headquarters, Fort Street, this evening at 8 o'clock, Dr. F. E. Williams' book, "Canada, Youth and the Present Day World," will be reviewed and discussed. The meeting is open to the public.

TWO ASK JUDGE FOR CITIZENSHIP

Nelo Nelson of Salt Spring Island, who came to Canada from Sweden fifty-seven years ago, and has been on Salt Spring Island for forty-eight years, appeared before Judge Lammiman to-day on his application for naturalization as a Canadian citizen. Henry James Wood, who has known Mr. Nelson for thirty-five years on Salt Spring, and Herbert Elmore Wood, who has known him for twenty-three years there, both testified to his fitness to become a Canadian citizen.

Rudolph Astillio Williams, 2815 Cook Street, horticulturist, who came here eight years ago from his home in Austria, also appeared before the judge on his application for Canadian citizenship. James Forman testified Mr. Williams was a type of young man worthy of becoming a Canadian.

Judge Lammiman will report on these two applications to the Department of State at Ottawa for final action.

MANY LEADERS COME FROM "Y"

Y.M.C.A., Which Opens Financial Campaign Next Week, Is Training Ground

Many prominent careers in the sporting world had their beginnings in the gymnasium and swimming pool of the Victoria Y.M.C.A. To enlist the support of the city in producing more such leaders, and in helping young people generally in difficult times, the "Y," in conjunction with the Y.W.C.A., next Monday begins its annual financial drive.

Torchy Peden, leading cyclist of the world, is typical of those who began their training in the "Y." Godfrey Parrot and Stenwall Jackson, two who are following in Torchy's footsteps, are also former "Y" boys.

In the swimming world, the Victoria Y.M.C.A. boasts such names as Dave Barclay, Art Stott, Lawrence Biddle, and the two Peden brothers, Bill and Ernie.

Chuck Cunningham and Joe Addison, two young runners who are paving the way to great athletic success, were members of the Victoria "Y."

The Y.M.C.A. brought along Muzz and Lynn Patrick, sons of the "Silver Fox," Lester Patrick; Art Chapman, basketball star, and Pete Tyson, who has gained fame as a wrestler.

The Victoria "Y" boys have gone far in other fields besides sports. Many have entered the church, while others are general secretaries or physical directors of Y.M.C.A. branches. In addition to the outstanding names, there are many thousands of men of all ages in the city who owe their health and a great deal of their success in life to "Y" training.

One of the main aims of the association at the present time, when the weather is so inclement, is to have left high school or college are none too bright, is to keep them off the street corners, to give them something to grasp and to fill their time with. "Y" has a plan. When they find employment, they may develop into full citizens, without the worry of disillusionment and discontent.

IS LAID TO REST

The funeral of Mrs. Jessie Cookley, who passed away at the Jubilee Hospital last Thursday, took place this morning. A number of close friends were in attendance. Burial was covered the casket. Canon F. A. Chadwick conducted the service and the remains were laid to rest in the Ross Bay Cemetery. The pallbearers were: W. H. Taylor, W. Richardson, H. B. Ludlow and Arthur Melhuish.

PAT HOWARD CHANGES TRIAL

He Re-elects For Speedy Hearing Without Jury

Pat Howard, one of the three men taken in connection with the theft of 35,000 cigarettes from the warehouse of W. H. Malkin and Co. on Esplanade, before Judge Lammiman to-day and re-elected for a speedy trial without a jury, in place of the jury trial he chose when he elected last month.

Stuart Henderson appeared as defence counsel for Howard and asked that the fixing of the date of trial be left over until April, as he would be engaged as chief defence counsel during the present month in the white slavery cases in Vancouver.

The judge ordered the fixing of the date to stand over until April County Court day.

W. B. Colvin of the Attorney-General's Department appeared for the prosecution and said there was no objection to Howard changing his election.

The other two taken in the Malkin warehouse robbery were Francis McKee and John Burns, who last month pleaded guilty when arraigned, and were sentenced by Judge Lammiman to eight months and two years respectively.

Pay Last Tribute To Ellis Brown

In the presence of a large congregation of sorrowing friends, business associates, members of the Masonic Order, Kiwanis Club, Y.M.C.A. and other organizations, with which he was actively identified, the remains of W. Ellis Brown, who passed away at Esquimalt on February 27, were laid to rest on Saturday afternoon.

The service was conducted at 2:30 o'clock by Dean C. S. Quinlan in Christ Church Cathedral, during which the hymn, "Jesus Lives," was sung. A procession of beautiful floral tributes was received, a special car being used to convey them to Ross Bay Burial Park, where the remains were laid at rest.

The following were pallbearers: C. F. Goodrich, W. M. Walker, W. L. Woodhouse, Frank Paulding, W. A. Parrott and S. J. D. Clark.

TRIO SENT TO HIGHER COURT

Clifford Dawley and Owen and Hugh Petticrew Committed For Trial

Clifford Dawley and Owen and Hugh Petticrew, all of Victoria, were committed for trial in a higher court by Magistrate Jay after he heard the preliminary inquiry into charges against them, in the City Police Court this morning. The Petticrew brothers were committed on a charge of breaking and entering the People's Market, 1265 Esquimalt Road, and Dawley will appear in the higher court on a charge of breaking and entering the Playhouse Candy Shop, Yates Street.

The Petticrew brothers were jointly charged, with Dawley on the latter count, but owing to insufficient evidence they were discharged this morning.

CRIMINOLOGIST'S TESTIMONY

Inspector J. F. C. Vance, Vancouver criminologist, was the chief Crown witness in the first case, that against the Petticrew brothers. He testified that a piece of cloth found in scrapings from the floor of the People's Market was identified as part of a pair of pants taken from the accused's room which were torn at the left thigh.

A piece of wood in a handkerchief found in the pocket of the same pants was identified as having been broken from the wooden moulding around the broken transom in the market entrance.

In the handkerchief pocket of a suit coat taken from the accused's room small fragments of wood of the same structure as that surrounding the transom were found testified Dr. Vance.

In the same pocket were found fragments of glass corresponding to glass which was swept up from inside the store and alleged to have been part of the broken transom, witness testified. More fragments of the same glass were found in the cuffs of another pair of pants, worn by Hugh Petticrew when he was brought to police headquarters under arrest. In the cuff of these pants was a fragment of wood which was the same as the sample piece taken by police from the front door of the store.

EVIDENCE CHALLENGED

David E. Tait, counsel for Owen Petticrew, asked how Dr. Vance identified the cloth. Witness explained it was examined by ultra-violet rays for dye and age properties. Its construction was also compared, the number of twists to the inch of the particular material, being taken into consideration. Examination was also made of the degree to which the material had been worn. Dr. Vance said, considering his positive statement that the samples of cloth found were the same as material in the pants.

There were the same number of threads in the material and the same degree of oxidation of the dye was prevalent.

Challenged in his identification of the glass, Dr. Vance explained that in this examination a reflectometer, spectroscopic, micrometer and ultra violet light were used. Glass could never be broken the same way, he said. The fracture depending on the weather conditions. Under the spectroscopic he explained that glass was examined for fractures on the spectrum band.

The same apparatus was used in comparing the wood, he continued. In this instance the degree of aging, the weathering, the degree of oxidation, and the dust content of the main piece and the sample were all the same.

PROPRIETOR'S STORY

Walter Ernest Robson, proprietor of the People's Market, testified his store was entered on the morning of January 13, through a glass transom over the front entrance to the store. The glass was broken, he said. A quantity of candies, tobacco, one $5, one $3 and one $1 bill and some change were taken. He identified a flashlight, which he said was his own and had been left the night before the robbery on the lowest of the stairs.

Victor Edward Carter, 721 Admirals Road, a youth employed at the market, identified the flashlight as belonging to his employer. He admitted he had no definite means of knowing it by the outside appearance, but stated the light contained flashlight batteries, which he had never seen.

Detective Henry Jarvis testified he and Constable Thomas Stevenson had arrested the brothers after visiting them at their rooming house at 415 Simcoe Street. Witness produced eighteen packages of cigarettes found in the room, a loaded revolver, a file and large punch, a flashlight, screwdriver and two pairs of pliers, a hand fold containing one $5, one $2, and one $1 bill, and $2.70 in change, and a pair of pants with a tear in the left front thigh.

Twenty-two exhibits were produced in the Petticrew case.

Evidence against the trio in the charge of entering the candy shop was similar to that given in the case against Dawley of breaking and entering the Dominion Theatre, on which he was committed for trial a few weeks ago.

Constable Thomas Stevenson, who shot at a form which he saw entering the theatre on the early morning of January 18, testified when he ran out of the theatre he saw three men descending the stairs, and he fired at them, appearing around the corner of Yates and Blanshard Streets, and as he passed the candy shop, the door was still swinging. He identified Dawley as the man whom he shot at and wounded in the leg, and who had fallen down during the chase. He described the other two as being a tall man and a short man, both of whom he saw entering the candy shop.

Owen Petticrew is over six feet tall and Hugh Petticrew is about five feet seven inches.

Constable Stevenson said all goods in the candy shop had been removed from the shelves and packed in cartons ready for removal.

William Rogers, proprietor of the store, Constable Thomas Stevenson, Detective Jarvis and Detective Woodburn also testified.

SEES TRADE IN S. AFRICA

P. Z. Caverhill Tells Gyros Business Is There, But Prejudices Must Be Broken

"There is a great volume of business to be done in South Africa and there is no reason why Canada cannot get 20 per cent of it. The people are sympathetic to us, but we have to go after the business strongly and show them how best to use their purchases from us," said P. Z. Caverhill, British Columbia's chief forester, in speaking to members of the Gyro Club at luncheon to-day at the Empress Hotel on his recent trip to South Africa.

South Africa has to import practically all its industrial timber. Mr. Caverhill said. These imports amount to about 300,000,000 feet a year, plus 50,000,000 feet of box materials. The British countries get about 75 per cent of this business, the United States 16 per cent and Canada 9 per cent, the speaker declared.

"The people of South Africa are kindly disposed towards Canada," Mr. Caverhill said, noting that Canada's purchases from South Africa had increased in recent years. "They appreciate our market and are anxious to increase their sales. They realize Canada is a big and growing market for their products. But we found an extreme lack of knowledge of our woods and many prejudices which have to be broken down before we can enter that market."

Mr. Caverhill spoke of South Africa's industries, stating that first in importance were the pastoral products. Export from this industry amount to a great deal he said. Fruit is grown in the Cape Province and sugar and tropical fruits in Natal. Second in importance in the industrial field were the mines, the gold being of particular importance and growing in value each year. Just the opposite, however, must be said of the diamond mines, this industry having dropped considerably in recent years. Last year the mines were closed, he noted. Now South Africa, which formerly led the world in diamonds, must face competition from the Belgian Congo, Brazil and Guatemala.

South Africa is now probably the most prosperous place in the world, Mr. Caverhill declared. Conditions there were pretty bad a few years ago, but now money means very little to the people. One newspaper manager, he said, told him that there was so much advertising that his paper had to refuse a great deal of it.

One of the first impressions given a visitor to Capetown was the cosmopolitan atmosphere of the city. The population was straight out of the population of the United States, he said. A black man never referred to as colored, he said. The colored people are treated by both the white and the black.

"I was only in South Africa a short time," Mr. Caverhill said, "but the opinion I formed was that the blacks do all the work, the British do all the thinking, the Africans look after the government and the Jews own the country."

South Africa has been a melting pot, Mr. Caverhill said. The original white were the Dutch, then the French and then the British. The Fusion government, he said, was a real step towards pulling the people more closely together.

Allan Pendergast of the B.A. Paint Company gave a brief vocational talk, tracing the history of his firm and announcing that it would go after business to a much larger extent this year.

Blues Capture City Intermediate Title

Wanderers Beat College 5 to 0 to Lift Local Rugby Laurels Without Necessity of Play-off; Ronnie McConnan Star

A clever young backfield player, Ronnie McConnan, who has been scoring points consistently all season with accurate place kicking, on Saturday brought the Oak Bay Wanderers' Blues through to the city intermediate rugby championship with a 5 to 0 win over Victoria College.

The game was played at Macdonald Park before a fair crowd, which dwindled when rain fell and spoiled ball handling.

McConnan plunged the last few feet on a fine Blues attack which started as a forward rush, continued with a short run by Pangman and ended when McConnan received near the line and went over for the lone touchdown of the day. He converted his own try, which was scored about twenty-five minutes from the start.

CLEAR-CUT WIN
The victory gave the Blues the second half championship, and averted a play-off for the title, the Blues having taken the first half handsily. As a result of the game they completed their regular league play for the Heyland cup without suffering a defeat.

Loose kicking featured the opening exchanges as the ball passed from one end of the field to the other without either squad threatening. Fifteen minutes from the start the College combined nicely to go deep into the Wanderers' ground. Price gained nicely on a run from a cross-kick, but the Collegians were called back.

Near the Wanderers' twenty-five Mallett tried a drop-kick, but his effort was blocked.

LOOSE TRY
Oak Bay secured the forwards stormed down on a smart dribble. Deep in the Craigdarroch boys' ground, Pangman picked up and forced ahead. Near the line he passed to McConnan and the Oak Bay star went over for the only try of the game. The Blues maintained pressure but were not break through as the game continued. College was turning in a smart blocking game and occasionally got away on dangerous threats, but the close tackling of the Blues held them.

Early in the second half Brown came near scoring, but was hauled down close to the line. Pangman made another good effort and was halted about five yards out. Jack Lever was hurt and taken to the hospital.

The game tightened up at the close, with the students turning in a gallant fight in an effort to offset the Blues' lead. The Wanderers were firm, however, and the game ended without further score.

LOOSE KICKING
Both teams were slightly off in kicking, as the greasy ball made clearances and place kicks difficult. The Blues missed a very fair chance for a penalty goal early in the first half.

Aubrey Walls refereed and the teams lined up as follows:
Wanderers' Blues—Cook, Barber, Latta, Bryden, McConnan, Lever, Murray, Briggs, Grogan, Fisher, Brown, Angus, Gornall, Pangman and Drummond.
Victoria College—Hudson, Price, Hallett, Thomas, L. Cox, Vetch, Kennedy, Fisher, Nation, Leckie, Ewing, Garrison, Palmer, Andrews, J. Cox and Lindsay.

London, March 4.—Winnipeg Monarchs defeated Wembley Canadians 7 to 1 yesterday to resume the winning pace they set in their hockey tour of Britain and Europe.

Azucar Laid Up With Injured Leg

Los Angeles, March 4.—Azucar, the former stockbroker who won last week's $100,000 Radio Radio headline, is on the injured list and may remain there for several weeks, his trainer, Les Wilson, St. Marys, Ont., said yesterday.

The boxer has a filled leg stopping, Wilson said, from having stepped on a stone.

PORTLAND IN SECOND SPOT

Defeats Seattle 3 to 1 to Move Ahead in Northwest Hockey League Race

Portland Vancouver were on route to Vancouver to-day, intent on clinching second spot in the Northwest Hockey League standings and with the Lions equally determined to climb back into a tie for the position.

Playing hosts to the league-leading Seattle Sea Hawks at Portland yesterday evening the Blues drew ahead of the Lions as they won a 3 to 1 decision from Frank Foyton's club. The victory gave the Blues a two-point margin over Vancouver.

The veteran Jack Arbour started the Blues on their way yesterday evening when he picked up Rusty Hemmerling's pass in the first three minutes of the opening period and battled it past Emmett Vene in the Hawks' nets.

Just before the period ended Moon pulled the score on a double assist from Johnny Sheppard and Cam Proudlock.

FRAMES SCORES
Seattle—Vene, Houbrecht, Gilhooley, McAdam, T. Hemmerling, Tabor, Sub: Mullen, Sheppard, Whittles, Proudlock.
Portland—Atkinson, Fraser, Arbour, Slyth, Lyons, J. Hemmerling, Sub: Munson, Evans, Coupes, Jempton.

Referee—Bernie Morris.

Arsenal Must Look To League Laurels

Barney Ross To Meet Woods Soon

West Springs, Ark., March 4.—Art Woods, member of the British Light Heavyweight and synthetic junior lightweight champion of the world, announced here yesterday that he will defend the latter title against Barney Ross in Seattle late this month.

Woods also said Ross would fight Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver, world welterweight champion, in June, if satisfactory arrangements can be completed.

Junior Badminton Tourney Scheduled

The Junior knockout badminton competition for the Anson Cup was announced to-day. This event is open to any team of four girls and four boys under the age of seventeen at January 1, 1935. Doubles and mixed doubles will be played. Entries will close on March 7 and play will start two days later.

Beaten in English Cup Saturday Gunners Now Find Sunderland and Manchester City Pressing in League Race; Bottom Clubs Steal Glory in Scottish League

London, March 4.—With cup battles over, Arsenal must now look to the league as leader of the English League. To-day Sunderland and Manchester City are trading on the heels of the famous Gunners, following decisive victories Saturday.

Sunderland is now tied with Arsenal on points but the Londoners have a game in hand and a superior goal average. Manchester City occupies third place in the standing, one point behind.

Manchester won at Derby 3 to 1 in a game featured by the play of Dellow, substituting at outside-right. He gave his side the lead and a few minutes later gave a pass from which Hord put his side two-up. The County's defence after the interval through Gallacher, following a forward movement the whole length of the field. Derby put on tremendous pressure shortly before the close, but the City defended stoutly.

BRISTOL AHEAD
Bristol moved into the leadership of the second division by defeating Bolton Wanderers, the tail-enders, 1 to 0, while Bolton was winning its cup battle at Everton.

The Blues were lucky to come out on top as they were continually on the defensive. Hord scored the only goal of the game.

Twenty-five thousand spectators attended the game between Charlton Athletic and Coventry City.

At half time with a lead of 3 to 1, Pearson and Wilkinson scoring for the southern section, third division leaders. Jones got Coventry's tally. Smith, from a penalty, put Charlton further ahead but Coventry evaded matters before the whistle, Leamington setting twice.

Tranmere Rovers' lead at the head of the northern section is rapidly being cut down by Doncaster Rovers, who trounced Walsall 5 to 0 while the League was being held for a scoreless draw at York. Balances scored two of Doncaster's goals, the others being obtained by Turner and Burton.

Glasgow, March 4.—Bottom-placed clubs stole the spotlight from the highest ranked squads in Saturday's Scottish football end, with St. Mirren the "giant killers" and Ayr United and Dunfermline emerging victorious.

In a desperate effort to avoid relegation, St. Mirren's goalkeeper, James, made a sensational save to keep his side against St. Johnstone. The experiment proved a great success and the United well deserved to win.

Dunfermline secured a substantial lead against St. Johnstone. The experiment proved a great success and the United well deserved to win.

Two weeks ago St. Mirren humbled the strong Hearts outfit at Tynecastle Park. Saturday the Love Street club entered the league and followed up their recovery by trouncing the visitors 3 to 0. Dowell, Knox and McKenna were the scorers.

Falkirk had a somewhat task on its hands at Brockville Park, tackling Glasgow Rangers. The home team gave the champs a good battle for the first forty-five minutes but then weakened. The Ibrox Park side took advantage of the lapse and banged home three goals without a reply.

A SURPRISE
Kilmarnock sprang a big surprise by winning against Dundee at Dens Park, 2 to 0. Kilmarnock didn't let Dundee's cause any, shooting one past his own goalkeeper for the first goal. Leslie netted the second.

Dundee's defence was a substantial 4 to 1 win over Hamilton Academicals, to keep pace with "Davies". McGowan, Dobson, with two, and Warden, from a penalty, counted for Dundee. Wilson scored for Hamilton.

Hibernians and Albion Rovers put on a great game at Easter Road and after the regulation ninety minutes the teams had each scored three times. Black bulged the net twice and Millar once for Hibernians. Lyon, Gilmour and McPhee evened the count.

Knockout Play For Badminton Teams
With play to open on March 9 the annual knockout competition for badminton teams in the second, third, fourth and fifth divisions was announced to-day. The series will be played under the rules of the second division and will be played at clubs having more than one court.

The entries will close on March 8. All entries must be sent to the secretary of the Lower Island Badminton League, 708 Cook Street, telephone E 5899.

McMullan Captures B.C. Squash Title
Vancouver, March 4.—Jim McMullan, Vancouver, is British Columbia's new squash champion and holder of the Jukes-Golden Trophy. He dethroned the former titleholder, Dr. Jack Wright, in a Canadian tennis king in a squash match Saturday night by scores of 3-0, 2-0, 8-5, 9-3, 9-5.

The second half the Wests scored. Smith beating Rowe with a low shot to the corner of the net. For the remainder of the match the greenbirds tried desperately to even matters but were unable

Wall Street List Sags In Dullest Session of Weeks

STOCKS SLIP IN MONTREAL

NEW YORK, March 4.—

Stock market prices were down to moderately low levels today in one of the dullest sessions in several weeks. Traders apparently were perplexed by the declining British pound and a further advance in the London gold price to a new record peak.

The close was easy. Transfers approximated 400,000 shares.

The foreign exchange had the attention of most financial observers. The American Iron and Steel Institute reported a small upturn in steel mill operations. An expansion in car loadings for the past week was indicated by early reports. Commodities, including grains and cotton, dropped with sterling. The pound, off nearly five cents at one time, rallied a large part of this loss. Gold currencies exhibited strength. U.S. Government securities moved up.

Metals shares turned heavy in late trading. U.S. Smelting dropped about three points, while Howe Sound, Dome, McIntyre, Porcupine and Cerro de Pasco relinquished a point or more each. Spiegel-Mayer and John-Manville also were down about two, and American Can, Case, Columbian Canned and American Locomotive sagged a point or so.

Myers B. Continental Can, Columbia Pictures, American Crystal Sugar and several others were steady to firm.

Among Canadian stocks, aside from heaviness in Dome and McIntyre, shares of International Nickel and Canadian Pacific reacted fractionally. On the curb, Lake Shore and Etirran Walker were a bit easy. Dominion Government bonds yielded half a point. 80.25 cents. There were a few soft spots in the general list. John-Manville dropped two points.

STOCKS SLIP IN MONTREAL

Montreal, March 4.—The Montreal Stock Exchange slipped lower in today's trading as buying fell off in practically every section of the list. Holdings were a weak feature, totaling 1,000 at 10.05. Power issues were weak.

Nickel was down half a point at 23 1/2 to lead the list. Steel of Canada declined 1/4 at 11. Steel of Canada, B.C. Power B. Building Products and a few others were narrowly higher, while St. Lawrence Flour rose a point at 37 1/2.

On the miscellaneous list Dominion Tea common at 6 1/2, and the preferred at 70 both firmed half a point, while English Electric A was up a little amount at 11 1/2.

TO-DAY'S EXCHANGE

Exchange rate at 3 p.m. N.Y.T.

London, March 4.—The Toronto mining market waded through a heavy flood of profit-taking today and finished in good condition, though losses predominated. Gold shares were stimulated by a new high price for gold in London, though some of the benefit from the advance was lost through the drop in sterling.

Hollinger closed at 18.25, down 0.25 net. Dome lost 1.25, Lake Shore 0.1. McIntyre 45 cents, Tack Hughes 10 cents and Wright Hargreaves 1 cent. Pioneer at 8 1/2 was off 10 cents.

In the secondary group, Sisco, Sylvanite, Pickle-Crow, Little Long Lac, God's Lake and Macdonald were all down at the close. San Antonio lost 10. McWaters added 14.

Base metals closed mainly unchanged and in the silver market prices for Winnipeg, Eldorado and Castile.

Winnipeg Futures Yield Fractious In Quiet Session

Winnipeg, March 4.—The decline of sterling adversely affected marketing of Canada's wheat crop in Liverpool today, and traders in the Winnipeg grain exchange moved cautiously in a quiet session.

Wheat prices closed 1/4 to 1/2 cent lower, May at 85 1/2 and July 85 1/2.

Unsettledness in currency markets checked foreign sales of Canadian wheat, which had shown improvement recently. Decline of the pound automatically raised Canadian prices and sales were negligible.

Strength at Liverpool, where prices closed 1/4 higher, had little effect here. Chicago held steady, and Buenos Aires remained on holiday.

World shipments of wheat, not including Canada, were 10,225,000 bushels in the previous week. North America's share totaled approximately 2,500,000 bushels compared to 2,400,000 the previous week.

Cash and coarse grains continued quiet.

BOND MARKET TREND MIXED

New York, March 4.—The bond market trend was a bit uneven in the early trading today.

Federal issues responded to the publication of detailed plans for the Treasury's March 15 financing with a show of moderate firmness. Dealings were light in all groups.

British 1 1/2's were steady during the forenoon in spite of the further tumble in the pound sterling. There were small transactions at 110 1/2, up 1/2. Australian 5's were down a point at 101 1/2, and Canadian 4's ended at 100 1/2. Italian and Japanese loans also were soft.

QUEBEC TO RAISE MINE PROFIT TAX

Winnipeg,

Mr. And Mrs.

HERE'S A LETTER JUST CAME FOR YOU. CANT MAKE OUT WHO IT'S FROM.

HANDWRITING'S SORT OF FAMILIAR— BUT IT DOESN'T LOOK LIKE YOUR. AUNT ELLA'S WRITING. IT'S A WOMAN'S HAND. ALL RIGHT, THOUGH.

POST MARK'S ALL BLURRED—CANT TELL WHERE IT WAS MAILED FROM. SAYS 5:30 P.M. BUT CANT SEE WHERE.

PERRAPS YOU WOULDNT MIND GIVING IT TO ME IF YOU'RE QUITE THROUGH WITH IT. IT'S MY LETTER, ISN'T IT?

SURE—IT'S FOR YOU. DIDNT I SAY SO?

Bringing Up Father

TO GIVE A LOT IF ONLY MAGGIE'S SISTER WOULD GO HOME—SHE'S BEEN AT OUR HOUSE SO LONG, I THINK SHE'S FORGOTTEN HER HOME ADDRESS—

NOW WHO CAN THAT BE ON THE PHONE? I GUESS I HAD BETTER ANSWER IT—

HELLO, DADDY! WHY, MOTHER'S SISTER SAID SHE WAS THINKING OF GOING HOME AND MOTHER WAS ARRESTED FOR SPEEDING WHILE TAKING HER TO THE STATION—

I'LL GLADLY PAY THE FINE, TELL HER—

Boots And Her Buddie:

OWH!! IT'S DE-ODDOR!!

HEAR—THIS JACE TRAIL—LOON!! I JUST GOT IT OUT OF THE CASE—IT MUST'VE COME IN RECENTLY, 'CAUSE I JUST NOTICED IT A FEW MINUTES AGO.

IT CAME TODAY, IN A SHIPMENT OF ODD-LOT STUFF FROM THE TINY SHOP—BEAUTIFUL. WHO, ISN'T IT? MORE THAN LIKELY, QUITE OLD.

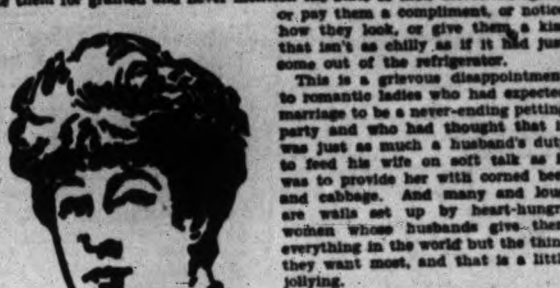

OR, YES— I JUST LOVE IT.

IT'S—SO— I DUNNO, BUT PLEASE DON'T SELL IT.

THE CHIEF grievance that women have in marriage is that as soon as the wedding ceremony is over their fiery lovers turn into mere husbands who take them for granted and never mention the state of their affections again, or pay them a compliment, or notice how they look, or give them a kiss that isn't as chilly as if it had just come out of the refrigerator.

This is a grievous disappointment to romantic ladies who had expected marriage to be a never-ending getting pretty and who had thought that it was just as much a husband's duty to feed his wife on soft talk as it was to provide her with corned beef and cabbage. And many and loud are the wails set up by heart-hungry women whose husbands give them everything in the world but the thing they want most, and that is a little jollying.

A woman, married to one of these men who say it with charge accounts at the best stores and new cars and trips to Europe and who think that a wife should have sense enough to know that he still thinks her the ONLY ONE if he works his fingers to the bone to keep her comfortable, reproached him with his indifference to her.

"You never tell me that you love me," she wept. "You never say you are glad you married me. You never look at me. You don't know whether I have on an old dress or a new one. You never tell me I have been a good wife. You never even thank me for all I do to make you comfortable. I am just a piece of household machinery that you don't notice unless it breaks down."

"Well," responded her husband, "I don't see that you make any fuss over me. I don't see you getting out any brass bands to celebrate my performance. I don't notice you love-doveying me. I don't see you burning any incense at my feet. And maybe I'd rather warm love myself. Maybe I'd like to know that I stood to you for something more than a cash register."

"But it is the man's place to do the wooing," protested the wife. "He should take the initiative in the love-making after marriage, as he did before. He should keep sentiment alive by showing his wife that he still admires her and cares for her as he did in their courtship days." At which the husband grunted hump and buried himself in his evening paper.

Now there is food for thought, especially for wives, in this little true story. And the first thought is that the women's complaint of their husbands' coldness and neglect have largely themselves to blame.

They let the fire of love die down in their husbands' hearts for lack of fuel. They cease to be lovable. They make no effort to be attractive to their husbands. They go dowdy. They are peevish and high-tempered and nagging. They are fault-finding and unappreciative. They give all of their tenderness and caresses to the children.

To be loved one must be lovable. To be loved one must be lovable. And so it is no wonder that a man takes little interest in petting a wife who turns the rim of her ear to his kiss, or that he is not demonstrative to one who is just about as romantic and sentimental as the kitchen stove, and who interrupts his tenderest speech to ask for market money.

The second thought is that being starved for affection is not the misfortune of women alone. Men suffer from it just as much as women do, and there are just as many husbands who long for some sign that they are still heroes to their wives as there are wives who yearn to know that their husbands still see them as young and beautiful.

The thing that makes marriage dull and ashes for so many husbands and wives is just being taken for granted. Men assume that their wives will know that they love them as long as they don't beat them or desert them. Women believing that their husbands will know they love them just because they cook them good dinners and sew buttons on their shirts. But the dry bones of duty are not enough to feed the heart on. It craves some living, vocal expression of affection. The husband wants the wife to tell him that he is handsomer than Ramon Novarro and she blames the day she married him. The wife wants the husband to tell her that she is the most beautiful and wonderful woman in the world and that he couldn't live without her. And as long as husbands and wives make a fuss over each other they are happy and satisfied.

And the final thought is that while men do the courting before marriage, the wife must do the courting after marriage. She must stoke the fire if the furnace is kept hot. Otherwise it goes out. Men are exhausted, nerve-racked by the strain of supporting a family. They want to be soothed and rewarded by being babied and made much of, by being told how great and wonderful they are, and when the wife doesn't do this some other woman does. It is the unbreakable technique of the husband-analcher.

The greatest hold that any woman has on a man is in loving him, and the wife who keeps on being a lover after marriage seldom loses her husband, or has reason to complain of his coldness and neglect.

Uncle Wiggily's New Dress

By HOWARD E. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily was in the kitchen of his hollyhock bungalow one day, eating a slice of cabbage bread with turnip marmalade on top, when a sudden, a voice asked him:

"Where are you, Mrs. Jane Fussy Wiggily?" "Oh, my goodness!" exclaimed the rabbit gentleman and he was so surprised that he jumped and nearly dropped his bread.

"What's the matter?" asked the rabbit lady who she had stepped into the kitchen. "Why did you jump so when I spoke to you? Did you think I was one of the Bad Chaps?"

"Oh, no," answered Mr. Longears. "I thought you didn't want me to take any of Mrs. Jane's bread and marmalade."

"Nonsense!" laughed Mrs. Longears. "Stuff and nonsense! But I want Mrs. Jane to help me. Where is she?"

"She just went out to the store," said Uncle Wiggily. "That's why I jumped out to her kitchen. But perhaps I can help you my dear. I should be happy to."

"Well, perhaps you could try on my new dress."

Return Of Tarzan

"Come," the dancing girl whispered. They crept out of the tent to a sheltered patch of shrubbery without discovery.

Together they set off across the desert in the direction of the mountains. "You are a brave girl," Tarzan said, "to run this risk for strangers."

"I am the daughter of the Black Baboon too," she answered. "I should be unworthy of my father if I would not—"

"With my life for the man who saved mine while he yet thought me a common dancing-girl. My cousin of this tribe told us the whole plot. Then I came alone, bringing two horses. But when they arrived at the place where she had tethered the horses, they were gone! She gave a stifled cry of consternation."

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel" TUESDAY, MARCH 4, 1935

According to astrology this is not an important day in planetary direction. In the morning hours adverse aspects are strong. Under this way there may be visionary plans for making money, but the judgment should not be trusted. The desire to make quick fortunes will be strong and there may be much speculation.

This is not a day for associating with men whose success breeds envy. Those who have places in the will will be helpful. It is not an auspicious way under which to seek capital or personal help of any kind on this day probably lucky.

Women are supposed to be very lucky while this configuration prevails. They should push all their business and personal matters. While many may not be successful there will be a few who are extraordinarily lucky.

This is a fortunate rule of the stars for the young. They will indulge in sentimental and many secret marriages among college students are forecast.

Romance takes on a new phase with the advancing month and there will be sudden infatuations and unconventional weddings. Parents should be lenient in judgment, remembering the stars are much to blame.

The spirit should be fortunate for the stage, for new players are to gain fame and to bring back the brilliant possibilities of the drama and personal magnetism.

This is a promising direction of the stars for all who enter into new partnerships or professional associations. It is a day for turning contracts or other legal documents. Persons whose birthday it is have the augury of a year of surprising occurrences in which there may be mysterious factors. Money should be more plentiful.

Children born on this day probably will be imaginative and adventurous. Subjects of this sign usually are serious and reliable.

The Gumps

MILLIE, HAVE YOU HAD A CHANCE TO TALK TO BIL ABOUT HIS WILL? HAS HE REVISED IT SINCE HE'S BEEN MARRIED? WHAT ABOUT HIS INSURANCE? HAS HE EVER TOLD YOU WHO THAT'S MADE OUT TO?

YOU KNOW HE'S ALWAYS BEEN FOND OF CHESTER—THE GUMPS AS MUCH AS ADMITTED TO ME ONCE THAT THEY'D ALWAYS EXPECTED CHESTER TO INHERIT THE BULK OF HIS FORTUNE—IF ANYTHING EVER HAPPENED TO BIL AND HE'D NEGLECTED TO MAKE OUT A NEW WILL IT WOULD BE JUST TOO BAD—

AFTER ALL YOU HAVE A RIGHT TO KNOW SOMETHING ABOUT THE AFFAIRS OF YOUR OWN HUSBAND—WHAT IF HE SHOULD BE IN AN ACCIDENT OR SUFFER A STROKE—IF YOU'RE SMART YOU'LL GET BUSY RIGHT AWAY AND SEE IF YOU CANT GET HIM TO GIVE YOU THE KEY TO HIS SAFETY BOX—

LOVEY, GUMP.
